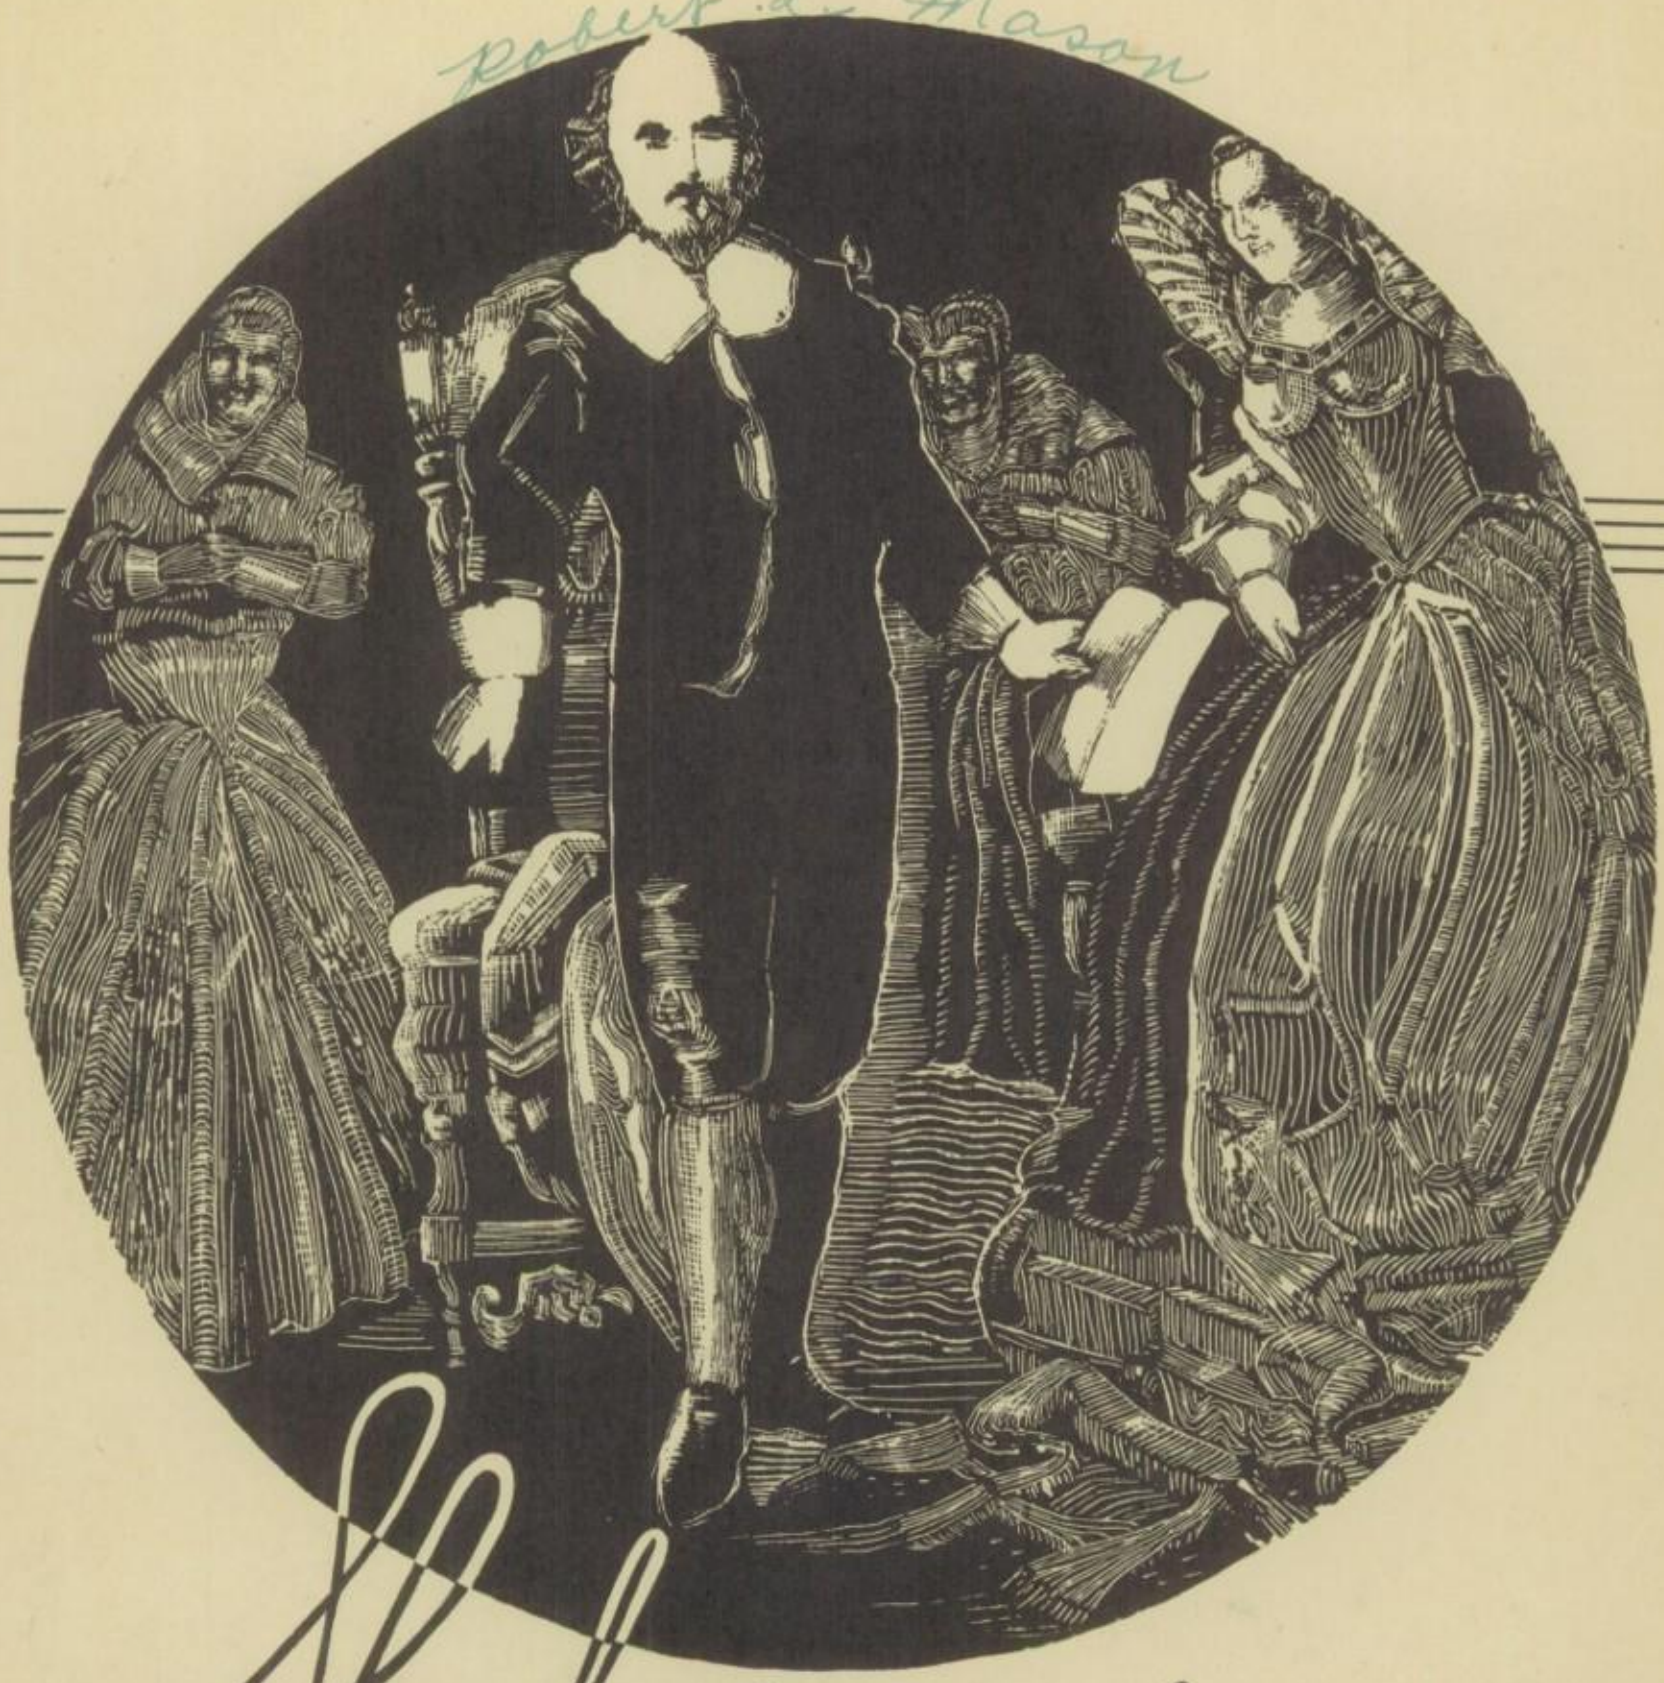
POT O' GOLD

1936 • DEVILBISS • 1937



Shakespeare

The world is but a stage and we, the players must act our roles in life's uncertain scenes. As our web of life is spun, all the cares are merely threads in Fortune's silver dreams. The happy days we spent at DeVilbiss are memories now, and will exist forevermore in our hearts as jewels in our chest of treasure. May the departing cast of this year carry to the stage of life all the high ideals of truth and wisdom that have been unforgotten and sacred traditions of our school forever.

"The silent hours steal on,
And flaky darkness breaks within the east."
Soon within these stately portals eager youth will assume their chosen roles.

- We find not here "the whining school boy creeping like a snail unwillingly to school," but happy smiling youth seeking knowledge and recognition.

● Here every day speaks a new scene;
The last act crowns the play.

There never was a day so drear,
But on its leaden sky was hung
Some shadow of a rainbow clear.

- "Oh call back yesterday, bid time return,"
  That we may again take part in the great scenes to be enacted within these walls.

"Mend your speech a little,
lest it mar your fortune."

FACULTY

DEANS AND ADMINISTRATION

We students little realize the important part teachers play in helping to develop one of the most important periods of our lives. Teachers are not only instructors, but also friends, guides, and stage directors on this great stage of life. Our high school days comprise only one great scene in the stirring drama of life. Without the counsel of our stage directors, we would not be able to direct the lights of our own individual personality to the spot where they will shine the brightest. Their perseverance and gentle reproaches help us to correct our faults in order that our errors may not be so great in the scenes that we shall play in later life. Our lines must be appropriately and correctly spoken in order to produce the effect desired. Our stage directors help us to adjust ourselves in the roles particularly suited to our ability; they suggest changes and improvements that will help to make our future life richer and happier. They are always more than ready to sacrifice their time that we may learn more of the role we have chosen to play on the Great Stage. Although we sometimes forget to thank them for their unselfish attention, our gratitude lies deep in our hearts. To them we'll owe a great portion of our future successes.

PRINCIPAL

"All the world's a stage," and on our stage, DeVilbiss High School, Merritt Nauts is the leading man. His role, that of guiding DeVilbiss, is played with a skill born from a natural talent for leadership. On the stage he is a cordial, enthusiastic, and sympathetic worker for the students' welfare, while behind those scenes he strives tirelessly for greater efficiency and harmony throughout the program. Everyone is familiar with his warm smile and his helping hand, but few know of the hours he spends working to accomplish for the school those things by which we all may benefit? His intelligence and foresight have provided many advantages not common to the students of most high schools. He has repeatedly shown that he is a pal to the students, and his "All for DeVilbiss" attitude has given us to feel that, win or lose, we have a valuable friend. We like to appreciate the fact that, although being on the receiving end of numerous quips and imitations, he has always been a good sport and retaliated with an example of his own inimitable humor. His endearing qualities of intelligence, sympathy, and good humor have led the faculty and entire DeVilbiss student body to regard it as a rare privilege to play a part of their life's drama at DeVilbiss with Mr. Nauts as their leading man.

LEARNED MAN IS Cassius

Mr. Nauts, our greatly admired principal, has supplemented his natural talents of leadership with thorough study in several fields of learning at various universities. He began his college career at Ohio State University where he earned his degree of Bachelor of Science. His graduate work was carried on at the University of Chicago and Columbia University from which he received his Master of Arts degree. He then returned to his work in the Toledo schools where he has done much to make DeVilbiss High School the outstanding school.

DEANS

Witty, cheerful, helpful, and efficient—this is the way we characterize Louis J. Mathias, the popular Director of Activities. The combination of teaching and supervising those extra activities that break the monotony of our routines keeps "Louie" busy continually . . . Mrs. King's thorough understanding of the weaker sex makes her very much in demand as Dean of Girls. Her poise and charm lend dignity to all occasions . . . Mr. Diller, Dean of Boys, is a versatile gentleman who can be a terror to miscreants, and a sympathetic friend to those, who like himself, are striving to better the school . . . The competent Dean of classes is Miss Pasch who directs the social functions and assists in all class problems . . . Miss Kratz and Mr. Swisher have already given much prestige in the newly created positions of Guidance Counsellors. Their duties are many, but these genial persons perform them well.

CLASS OFFICERS AND COMMITTEES

Time changeth all things. This class of nineteen hundred thirty-seven hast run its course. Of this multitude are those who entered DeVilbiss at its birth six years ago to attend the seventh and eighth grades within its portals. The joy of living has been great to these loyal DeVilbiss sons and daughters, and the years have yielded much of benefit. This last term stands fittingly supreme, for within it is contained the senior life and activities. Staged with skill, and played with all the pathos of the theater the Senior Play standeth at the head of the glittering procession of events. Then on the twenty-first eve of January the Mid-Winter Dance came forth from the splendors of the season, and merrymaking was in sway. At the annual fete for fathers, senior boys supped 'side their honored paters. Good fellowship reigned and that event n'ere will be forgotten.
Soon, too soon for not a few, the banquet table was laid again, and the Senior Dinner became another memory.
If anyone had tears, they shed them at the Farewell Dance which followed the feasting. Dignified and solemn the Prom and Baccalaureate service were, but they were only previews to the greatest event of all — Graduation which is the climax to all efforts.

Hear ye!
Hear ye! Ye good gentlemen and otherwise. This class is about to abandon its Junior rank and assume the coveted title, Senior. The class has wrought much, and success hath nipped constantly at its heels. Mid merrymaking and festivity on the nineteenth day of the Noel month there happened the "Holly Day Hop." Again on the sixth eve of the Ides, the King's fiddlers issued airs of celebration, and dancing was held on the village green. This joyous happening shall live long in the natives' hearts, for ne'er again shalt there be another Junior Hop that will seem so sweet to these of this class. "All the world's a stage;" and on that whispering Spring eventide of May third, a goodly portion of it became an audience for the much heralded Junior play. The drama played itself with a great dignity and a manner which charmed its audience into echoing applause. Time treads softly, ne'er heedful of men; and when the moon displayed her countenance again she shone down upon a splenderous sight. T'was the Junior-Senior Farewell Dance, yielding joys and sadness and ending with: Good night, parting is such sweet sorrow, so we shall say good night until tomorrow. May the tomorrows hold much for you departing seniors.

IN MEMORIAM

KENNETH SABIN '39

GAYLORD ROHLOFF '37

Two dear friends who
". . with a cheery smile and a wave of the hand—have wandered into an unknown land,
And left us dreaming, how very fair
It needs must be since he lingers there.
So think of them faring on . . . .
as dear in the love of There as the love of Here . . . .
Think of them still as the same,
. . . and say, they are not dead
THEY ARE JUST AWAY.

—James Whitcomb Riley

"Life's but a walking shadow, a poor player
That struts and frets his hour upon the stage
And then is heard no more."

CLASS OFFICERS AND COMMITTEES

What ho!
This class hast come a distance since first it chanced upon the scene. Men at some time are masters of their fates, and masters of high repute are these students of sophomore rank. No lean or hungry looks lingereth here for didst not that charitable body of student councilors bestow upon this class a goodly time of joy compounded with a thousand fold of kingly rations? Ah yes! Truly, this deed was done mid fading day of November sixth. On this night even the lamp lighters hastened to remove themselves from out the crowded byways as one and all betook them and theirs to the Sophomore Prom.
It was an eve of merriment n'er to be forgotten. E'en the stars stood poised on high in silent shame as the flushing revelers below dulled their glistening selves to feebly glowing coals
. . . Then as the trees donned Easter bonnets, the sophomores scampered 'bout again to herald coming spring. A heap of happy souls are these who dance away their idle hours
. . . Thus a second year hast done, and e'en now with the role of upper classman yet a yonder vision, the sophomores yearn toward longer noses down which to peer at the lowly mortals who, in the future, bid fair to be as wise, or wiser, than they.

CLASS OFFICERS AND COMMITTEES

Hi there!
Tarry some and list awhile. On certain bright September morn of the year of our Lord, nineteen hundred thirty-six, a multitude of mortals oped wide the gates and entered in this Forest of Arden to wander within these walls. These ones of mortal birth have been well met and have wont to gather much.
Betimes, an ideal is being sought and striven for. Afar is the shining vision of Thomas A. DeVilbiss to which these wise ones yearn. "Some few are born great, some achieve greatness, and some have greatness thrust upon them." All bethink Mr. DeVilbiss as one who achieved greatness. A man of deeds was he for which this Forest now is called. He knew well that greatness begot by merit, not fortune, yields happiness much sweeter. Thus the new souls within this Forest sought much for his ideals. They kneweth nought concerning elder life on that morn of September last; betimes they've progressed far.
Twixt twilight hours on April ninth these freshmen frolicked upon the tender green. Jolly fellows all betook themselves to this happy time . . . Now a single year hast passed and already these once lowly mortals have ascended far toward upright deeds and that shining vision which is their goal in life.

"He that is giddy thinks the world goes 'round."

As deepening shadows fall upon the stage,
The closing curtain marks the end of this
The pageant of our passing high school days.
The roles and scenes portrayed by us exist
As memories of a vivid scope of life.
Our minds enriched, our hearts illum'd as on
The threshold of all worldly cares and strife
We pause, half-dazed by ages sweeping on.
Again the curtain sweeps back from the stage
And visions of the pageants yet to come,
Emerge from obscure shadows as we gaze
Upon the vague settings that will become
The new great dramas of humanity,
In endless years that stretch to eternity.

"The web of our life is a mingled yarn,
good and ill together."

ORGANIZATIONS

CURRICULAR AND EXTRA CURRICULAR

When students of DeVilbiss say "organizations", one outstanding leader in the school flashes into the mind. The one and only, Louis J. Mathias, Director of Activities, is always ready and willing to help in time of need. Through his efforts the large number of societies which give students a chance to study and play in a group were made possible. Boys and girls, from freshmen to seniors, all have equal opportunity to join the groups which best fit their interests and types, for there are many different kinds of organizations. The principle idea of the clubs is to develop in members of the student body the four important qualities enumerated in our school code—, scholarship, leadership, character, and service. Scholarship is developed in the educational program of the school, but it is encouraged by the fact that a person must maintain a high scholastic standing to belong to an organization. Leadership is developed in clubs where students of different abilities rise to the executive positions and undertake to carry out, worthwhile projects. Character is developed through working with a group. Service to the school is contributed through work on school publications and worthwhile assembly programs.

CURRICULAR EXTRA CURRICULAR

The work of the Student Council of DeVilbiss is directed by its president and the commissioners who are appointed by the president with the approval of Mr. Mathias, the director of activities. To be qualified for these positions the students must have an honorable character, good scholarship, school integrity, and a willingness to serve.

For the first time in the history of the school, the executive position in the council was held by a girl, Helen Wolfe. The Board of Commissioners were as follows:

The Clerk of the Board, Nancy Wiggins, kept a record of all meetings, checked attendance, and recorded grade averages of the council members.

The Commissioner of Student Welfare, Lamont Cadmus, took charge of student assemblies, voting, and welfare work.

The Commissioner of Finance, Kenneth Fox, supervised the treasurers of all organizations, and took charge of all money raising projects.

The Commissioner of Publications, George Banta, directed the work of all school publications.

The Commissioner of Organizations, Abner Martin, had general supervision of all clubs.

The Commissioner of Publicity, Max Biringer, personally supervised the placing of announcements on the bulletin boards, and granted speaking permits for advertising purposes.

The Commissioner of Athletics, Carl Meyer, had general supervision of intramural athletics, helped receive and entertain visiting teams, and directed the squad of cheer leaders.

The Commissioner of Justice, Mark Canfield, presided over the Student Court and promoted order at auditorium assemblies.

The Commissioner of Police, Carl Schwenzfeier, had charge of the Hall Patrol, and acted as prosecutor in the Student Court.

The Commissioner of Awards, Clifford Roper, helped the students to understand the awards system, and granted the number of points for services.

The Commissioner of Service, Robert Ash, conducted the Lost and Found department, and had student supervision of other matters pertaining to service to the school.

The Commissioner of Social Affairs, Barbara Cronberger, had complete supervision of all social affairs. She also planned the social calendar and gave instruction to committees as to how the affairs should be conducted.

COMMISSIONERS

- Helen Wolfe, Abner Martin, Barbara Cronberger, Kenneth Fox, Lamont Cadmus.
- Carl Meyer, George Banta, Max Biringer, Mary Jo Williams, Robert Ash.
- Mr. Mathias, Clifford Roper, Mark Canfield, Carl Schwenzfeier, Nancy Wiggins.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council of DeVilbiss was organized to promote student participation in school government. This they have done by directing student activities, giving assistance to all organizations, and by maintaining and furthering school spirit in every possible way. This work is all carried on by the Board of Commissioners under the direction of Mr. Mathias whose inspiring leadership has aided the council to promote some very worthwhile projects.

The council is made up of a representative from each homeroom group in the school. He is elected for a term of one school year. His selection is based upon the following qualifications: school integrity, common sense, average grade of "C" or above, personality and initiative, responsibility, interest in extra-curricular activities, sense of justice and democracy, independence of judgment, and dependability. If he fails to maintain this standard in any way, he may be removed from office. His duties are to attend all meetings of the council, and to keep his homeroom group well informed concerning the activities of the school. Every member of the council is a member of some committee that works with the commissioners in carrying out the various activities of the council.

In addition to the regular duties administered by the council numerous special activities were undertaken. Among these were a series of educational assemblies which proved very popular. In these assemblies, prominent artists in many fields were presented for the entertainment of the student body.

According to the custom established by the first council, the social season was ushered in by a delightful informal dance in the girls' gymnasium. This dance was well attended and many alumni were noticed among those enjoying the dancing.

The keystone bearing a flaming torch with the letters C, S, L, and S signifies the purpose and ideals of the National Honor Society. Each senior class has fifteen percent of its members inducted into the DeVilbiss chapter of this society, the selection being made according to the standards represented by the letters on the emblem. These requisites of membership are Character, Scholarship, Leadership, and Service. Inducted into the group because he possesses these qualities, each member is required to maintain his record of achievement and to implant these four principles in the student body.

This year the advisers of the club were Miss Frances Severens and Miss Aurelia Quinn. The officers were: Max Biringer, president; Arthur Black, vice-president; Stewart Bray, treasurer; and Marjorie Beard, secretary.

To promote scholarship, the Honor Society sponsors the DeVilbiss Freshman and Sophomore Honor Society. This body is in no way connected with the national organization, and its entrance requirements are based solely on scholarship. Service to the student body is rendered by the operation of the college room. Here students may find helpful information pertaining to colleges and universities. The college room committee also compiles data regarding available scholarships. By no means were all the activities of the organization sedate and scholarly. Throughout the year, numerous parties and social gatherings were held for the purpose of enjoying each other's company and having a good time. Three times this year, formal inductions of new members have taken place in the auditorium.

The following groups were inducted in March:

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

SENIOR FRIENDSHIP

"I was at the Friendship meeting after school. You should join the fun."

"No, there are no membership requirements other than being a senior girl and paying your dues."

"All right, I'll tell you everything I know about it. Our advisers, Miss Eva Samsen and Mrs. Esther Shawen, have shown the same untiring efforts with the girls as they have in the class rooms. Together they have worked with the officers: president, Betsy Winder; vice president, Jeanne Wright; secretary, Genevieve Dickman; treasurer, Ruth Hahn; chaplain, Vivian Levey; and reporter, Jane Brint.

"Anita Mason was in charge of a Christmas party given for the second grade in the Miami Children's Home—those children were just darling. They seemed to appreciate every little thing which was given to them.

"Myrna Wileman planned a very successful Christmas spread, given in the home of Betsy Winder, for all the members.

"Erna Hathaway, with the help of Helen Pollex, arranged a potluck—skating party at the Y. W. C. A. We usually have a roast to start and to finish the social affairs of the club.

"In addition to these social events, in order to promote our educational program, several well informed people have spoken to us on the subject of colleges.

"Besides taking part in our own club affairs, the members of the Friendship Clubs take part in city-wide groups.

"Two Sundays in every month, the Hi-Y and Friendship Clubs of the city sponsor an open forum in the Y. M. C. A. The subjects for discussion were of vital interest to young people: 'Youth Seeks the facts about (1) Colleges; (2) Religion; (3) Personal Relations; (4) Themselves; and (5) Spain.'

"The officers of all the Junior and Senior Friendship Clubs of the city belong to an Interclub Council of which one of our representatives, Doris Clevenger, is president. This club gave a party for all the Toledo Friendship Clubs, called the Springtime Fiesta.

"Four members of our club attended a Hi-Y and Friendship conference, held at Camp Storer for the Junior and Senior Hi-Y's and Friendship Clubs of Toledo and suburban high schools. This conference was one at which the discussion of the present day youths' problems was the prevalent purpose."

SENIOR HI-Y

- Wilbur Bielefeldt, George Black, Mark Canfield, John Fotheringham.
- Kenneth Fox, Robert Griffith, Henry Hopple, Oliver Kaul.
- Jack Lindberg, Abner Martin, Carl L. Meyer, James Mumford.
- Junior Richardson, Paul Roberts, Robert Stamp, Dan Schauss.
- Gilbert Smith, Harry Thieman, James Van Sickle, James Vollmayer.
- Lawrence Wickter, David Williams, Keith Wilson, Don Wiseman.

One of the most active organizations in the school this year has been the Senior Hi-Y, which is affiliated with the Toledo Y. M. C. A. Headed by Don Wiseman as its efficient president, Kenneth Moan as secretary, and Harold Apger as treasurer, the club has progressed steadily. Its threefold purpose is: "To create, to maintain, and to extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character." This ideal has resulted in many interesting and educational activities.

Round table discussions, movies, outside speakers, and open meetings provided delightful variety to the programs. Of special benefit were the outside speakers. Mr. Blanchard explained the politics connected with the last election; Mr. Featherstone spoke on "The Housing Problem"; and Rev. Talmadge discussed "The Ways of Meeting Failure." An unusually pleasant evening was spent visiting the Indiana Y, a corresponding Hi-Y group, made up of the colored boys in the city. This meeting created a valuable relationship between the two groups.

During the second semester, the Hi-Y sponsored the vocational guidance lectures and discussions which were held in the school auditorium for boys of the Junior Class. In connection with these lectures were the vocational guidance interviews arranged to give Senior boys an opportunity of gaining reliable information about professions in which they were interested. Thus, those boys who desired to do so, personally interviewed well-known business men of Toledo.

Throughout the year the DeVilbiss group, together with the other high schools of the city, has helped to make possible the Hi-Y and Friendship Forums which were held at the Y. M. C. A. on Sunday afternoons. Our school had charge of the first meeting at which President Nash of Toledo University spoke. Each of these meetings was followed by refreshments and mixing games which encouraged many worthwhile and lasting friendships.

The club's social affairs were anticipated by everyone because they have always proved to be such jolly gatherings that one could forget his dignity and really enjoy life. Side Cut Park at Maumee was the site of the annual fall roast which was held in September when the cool evenings inspire outdoor activity and reinforce the appetite. The splash party which was held in the new Y. M. C. A. pool marked another successful evening.

In sports this organization excelled. All of the members were proud of both their undefeated football team and their basketball team which reached the semi-finals in the Christmas vacation tournament.

Advisers, Mr. Joe Collins and Mr. Robert Stollberg, deserve recognition too. Although they have remained in the background, the culmination of their efforts is visible in the success of the club.

The Junior Hi-Y, a club of the school which is closely affiliated with the Y.M.C.A., was open to junior boys of good character and average scholarship who were interested in the Hi-Y and its work. The organization was created during the first years of the life of our school, the members pledging to uphold its purpose—"To create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community higher standards of Christian character."

At the regular meetings interesting speakers were invited to speak and some were interviewed before the group. All matters of business were discussed at these meetings. The social affairs of the club included roasts, splash parties, theater parties, and other affairs enjoyed by the up-and-coming youth of today. These activities were under the direction of Richard Crossley, president; Bud DeHaven, vice-president; Herbert Hansen, secretary; James Gilbert, treasurer; Mr. S. B. Emery and Mr. Richard Drouard, advisers.

TORCH CLUB

● Douglas White, George Deckleman, Jon Jones, John Harris.

● William Dripps, Bud Oehmler, Dale Cunningham.

● Tom Evans, Charles Napp, Kenneth Fox, Mr. J. C. Collins.

The Torch Club is the freshman equivalent of the Hi-Y which is affiliated with the Y.M.C.A. Membership is based on a boy's ability to maintain a high scholastic standard, a clean character, and good sportsmanship.

Besides attending Hi-Y forums, we had a number of worthwhile programs. Among our speakers were Dr. Hohly, Mr. Shaeffer, and John Harris, one of our own members. Our social affairs created greater comradeship among the boys.

The officers for the year were: Jon Jones, president; Charles Napp, vice-president; Bud Oehmler, secretary; Tom Evans, treasurer. Our advisers were Mr. Shaeffer, and Kenneth Fox.

If every Thursday night at seven-thirty you were unable to find your young brother who was a sophomore at DeVilbiss, if he disappeared with surprising regularity at this specific time which you had come to suspect as the "witching hour", you did not need to pace the floor with that blank look, for any sophomore boy could have told you that he was downtown at the Y.M.C.A. attending a meeting of the Sophomore Hi-Y. After our thorough investigation into the activities of this sophomore club, we report that no blame can be attached to him for his vigorous interest in this activity; for the club packed its annual program with a series of constructive and entertaining projects.

They started the year off with a definite "bang" by electing Tom Brown, president; Joe Collins, vice-president; Bill Kamke, secretary; and Don Klewer, treasurer. The club's adviser, Mr. William Daniels, first talked and worked with the members concerning the program of the forthcoming year. This discussion bore fruit in a series of very interesting and educational discussions which dealt with such topics of the day as: athletics, health, boy and girl relationships, and vocational guidance. Interesting experiences of men in diverse fields of occupations and professions were related. Dr. Brigham spoke about "Tobacco and Temperance," and Mr. Smith aided in the vocational guidance meetings. Of great interest was the talk on "Nature and Wild Life" by Mr. Joe Friday, a local Indian. These programs were planned and successfully carried on by Robert Bergman and Olin Pelton, program chairmen.

But, being sophomores, the members were by no means continually engaged in learned discussions concerning world events. The social chairman, Joe Collins, planned numerous social events which the members enjoyed immensely. One of these delightful affairs was a huge Splash Party and Pot Luck Dinner held in honor of the Scott High School Friendship Club. As the year progressed, the mild weather that was so conducive to outdoor activity drew forth the members to Side Cut Park, where a roast was held.

To climax all of their efforts this group carried out the plans for a superlative turn out for the annual camp session held at Camp Storer. This outing cemented more strongly the friendships among the group.

Any junior girl who aspires to be a good friend and to have good friends, as well as to promote the high ideals and standards of friendship, is given the excellent opportunity of becoming a member of the Junior Friendship Club. This organization is affiliated with the Y.W.C.A. with which it cooperates in many of its activities.

Although this club does much to socially entertain its own members, it also is interested in the welfare of others and does much to aid the needy.

For their own entertainment, they held two delightful splash parties, two roasts, and a sleigh ride. The New Year was welcomed in with a party for all members.

According to custom, a banquet in honor of the Junior football players was given in the Y.W.C.A. Judge Homer Ramey was the guest speaker.

Later in the year when funds were low, they sponsored an afternoon dance which was a success socially as well as financially.

Because the Junior Friendship Club has been successful in so many activities it should accomplish greater things next year as the Senior Friendship Club.

Living up to their code and ideals, the Sophomore Friendship Club has left a pleasant memory behind for their second year. This club, furthering the cause of world-wide friendship and fellowship, consisted of a group of sophomore girls who were interested in the maintenance of this cause.

The only qualification for membership is an interest in making new friends, and cooperating with other girls.

The code is made up of eleven lines, each beginning with the consecutive letters in Girl Reserve.

The slogan is "Try to face life squarely."

The purpose is "To find and to give the best."

The Sophomore Friendship Club has passed a very successful year, the members participating in all its activities with unsurpassed enthusiasm. Miss Elizabeth Johnson, Miss Ruth Lukens, and Miss Harriet Kimble were the advisers who so willingly devoted their time and effort to help the girls make their club worthy of its name.

Under the leadership of Margery Staler, president; Mary Dennen, vice-president; Marjorie Lamb, secretary; and Marjorie Urschel, treasurer, the club sponsored several activities—a hay ride, a roast, several parties, as well as a party for the orphans. Although the girls enjoyed the hay ride and the roast, the party for the orphans brought an unusual amount of pleasure. A party given at the home of Barbara Melvin during Christmas vacation was heartily enjoyed by all the fun-loving club members. Miss Johnson imitated a Shirley Temple dancing Doll, and Miss Lukens a train.

Throughout the winter months, the girls enthusiastically cooperated in disposing of the one hundred and forty-four spoons they needed to sell in order to pay for their page in the Pot O' Gold. In March a skating party was held in the Y.W.C.A. gymnasium, which twenty girls attended. Afterwards a tour of the residence, conducted by one of the secretaries, proved interesting and entertaining to all the members. At one of these meetings Miss Ruth Smith gave an interesting talk on her trip to England.

The regular business meetings were carefully planned by Mary Dennen and her Committee. Original and entertaining speakers, skits and parties provided entertainment.

The other committees of the club were headed by Jeanne Speyer, social committee; Suzanne Lehman, welfare committee; Evelyn Lewis, music committee.

This year, the girls decided to purchase sweaters and emblems symbolizing the Girl Reserve Triangle. Girl Reserve blue was the color chosen for the sweaters, and the triangles were navy blue on white.

This club hopes to attain even greater success next year as the Junior Friendship Club.

The following is the Girl Reserve song "Follow the Gleam", which was an inspiration to all.

To the knights in the days of old
Keeping watch on the mountain height,
Came a vision of the Holy Grail
And a voice through the waiting night.
Follow, follow, follow the gleam;
Banners unfurled o'er all the world.
Follow, follow, follow the gleam
To the light that shall bring the dawn.

The Freshman Friendship Club is affiliated with the other Friendship Clubs of DeVilbiss and is open to the youngest group of girls. Its purpose is to promote friendship among the girls and to provide wholesome educational and social activities in which they can take part.

The advisers, Miss Mildred Schmidt and Miss Marjorie Warner, worked with the officers to make membership in this organization worthwhile. The Freshmen were led by Frances Williams, president; Irene Minke, vice president; Patsy Lutz, secretary; and Mary Ann Lepke, treasurer. Jeanne Smith acted as chaplain and was assisted by June Crowdis. Jeanne Harrison was the reporter.

To become a member, a girl had to be a Freshman. She was required to show enough interest in the club, to attend the meetings regularly, pay her dues, and take part in programs and social activities.

As a fitting climax to a most enjoyable year, the girls arranged a farewell picnic. Thus they bade farewell to days as Freshman Friendship Girls and heralded those when they would be the Sophomore Friendship Club.

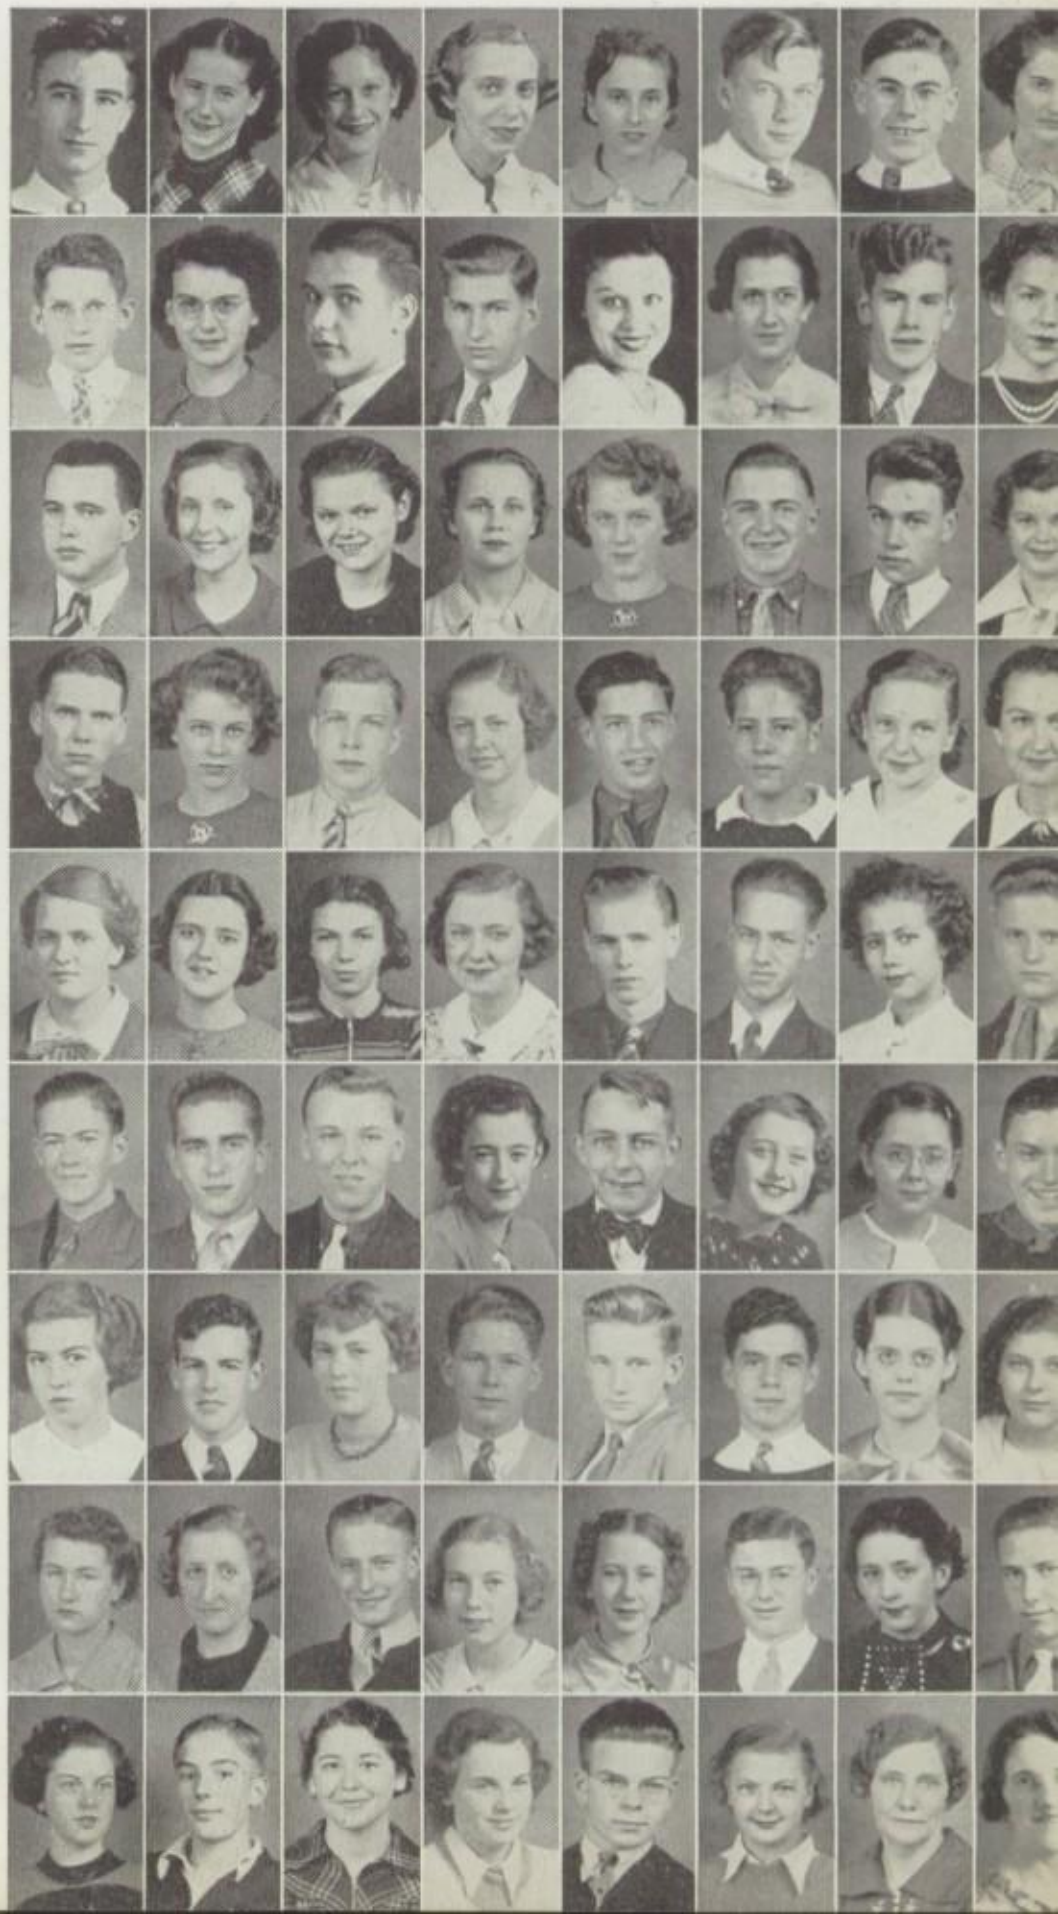
Each Thursday afternoon throughout the entire school year, numerous students found themselves drawn to the library by the lilting strains of music played by an orchestra under the direction of Mr. Rodney Davis. Their excellent music offered a real incentive for all members of the Dance Club to be present at every meeting.

This club was a social organization with a very worthwhile objective—to acquire grace and poise while learning to dance well. The regular weekly meetings contained a full hour of instruction under the direction of Miss Ruth Burke of the Erica Ransome Studio of Dance, who taught the fundamentals of dancing the first semester. During the second semester, Mr. Kremer taught some advanced modern steps to the students. After each lesson a half hour was devoted to social dancing.

On the afternoon of December eleventh, the club entertained members and friends. Joining with the National Honor Society, the Dance Club presented a gala evening dance in the girls' gymnasium on the evening of April sixteenth. Under the soft lights and to the fascinating rhythms of Bud Hopple's orchestra, many young couples tripped the light fantastic.

To Miss Nellie Foot and Miss Aurelia Quinn, the members of the club are deeply indebted, and they will always remember the happy hours these two loyal advisers made possible for them. The club also owes much to their capable officers: Richard Sturdevant, president; Howard May, vice-president; and Stewart Bray, secretary-treasurer, who so ably conducted all the business of the organization. Thus faithful advisers plus capable officers plus an excellent orchestra equaled a successful year for the Dance Club of DeVilbiss High School.



ZETALETHEAN

The door to room 206 has been shut for the last time. The Zetalethean Literary Society has completed all business for the year 1936-37. It certainly has been a successful year for us. In September we called our first meeting to elect officers. A small faithful handful of girls responded. Officers we elected were: Muriel Singer, president; Nancy Lamb, vice president; Rosalie Brown, secretary; and Jean Sibley, treasurer.

We planned an induction which was held at Lucy Jane Speirs' home. Among the girls inducted were Mary Jane Ball, Virginia McLuckie, Margaret Fox, and Betty Jane Repp. We decided to elect Miss McHugh as our new adviser, to join Miss Pasch and Mrs. Sutter.

As the result of many business meetings we subscribed to "The Book of the Month Club." Our members read the books first and then donated them to the library. Among the interesting books was "Seven Pillars of Wisdom" by F. E. Lawrence.

Our interesting and enjoyable programs planned by Nancy Lamb, our program chairman, were devoted largely to contemporary literature.

The bright spot of the year was the purchase of our pins. They represent a crowning achievement of the year.

In March we held our second induction at the home of Josephine Crawford. We were particularly fortunate to induct Mary Jane Patch, Dorothy Orr, Myra Jane Byran, Vivian Wampler and Martha Jane Hunt.

Thus ended a successful year with bright hopes for the future.

LOLA NICKEL, CHAPLAIN

Handicapped by a late start and only twelve old members, the Epsilon chapter of the Periclean Literary Society has lived up to its motto, "Nulli Secundae", by becoming an active group this year.

The rigid qualifications for membership—an average grade of "C", a "B" average in English, an interest in literature, and a willingness to cooperate with the group did not discourage prospective Peris.

The formal induction of new members was an inspirational ceremony which will be long remembered by the participants. Other highlights in the program were teas, spreads, a Christmas party, an alumnae meeting, and a roast with the Q.D.'s.

Throughout the year an interesting and constructive series of programs based upon the theme "Women in Art" has been followed. In our bi-monthly meetings the lives and contributions of women in the theater, art, literature, social service, music, science, and history have been discussed.

PERICLEANS

To encourage and maintain the high standard of Peri programs, the locket of distinction was awarded at each meeting to the girl contributing most to the program. The traditional locket is a small golden Pi, in accordance with the club insignia. The Greek letter π, in the form of a gold pin was officially adopted this year standardizing the insignia for future years.

Aided by three able and interested advisers, Miss Marian Smith, Mrs. Edith Schwenke, and Mrs. Carrie Whaley, the Peris have completed an interesting and highly satisfactory year.

- Mary Badenhope, Marian Becker, Lenore Black, Mary Alice Cannan.
- Winifred Clark, Veva Cobley, Nedra Daley, Virginia Dingman.
- Dorothy Downing, Betty Drew, Eleanor Dunham, Rosemary Engel.
- Charla Glann, Gloria Grainger, Ruth Hahn, Patsy Guitteau.

- Joan Metcalf, Lola Nickel, Eleanor Partis, Frances Sears.
- Emily Sawtelle, Marjorie Snody, Kathryn Stacey, Dorothy Tippett.
- Phyllis Waters, Mrs. Whaley, Miss Marian Smith.

QUILL AND DAGGER

The Delta chapter of the Quill and Dagger Literary Society was founded at DeVilbiss in 1933 for the purpose of increasing the appreciation and understanding of literature, and for the purpose of promoting brotherhood, friendship, and greater cooperation among its members. To be accepted into the society of the orange sweaters, one must be a boy, a member of the junior or senior class, and must maintain an average of "C" or better in all of his subjects.

The following officers were elected at the beginning of the school year: Kenneth Moan, president; Carl Schwenzfeier, vice-president; Richard Weber, secretary; Robert Griffith, treasurer; and Ross Lucke, program chairman. The club has been very efficiently advised by Mr. Voss and Mr. Burns.

Under the direction of a capable committee, many interesting and educational programs have been presented throughout the year. These have consisted of book reviews, vocational guidance talks, and extemporaneous speeches. Of special interest have been the discussions about hobbies, driving, and girls. Participation by the members has been stressed rather than calling upon outside speakers.

The Q. D.'s also served the school by preparing several skits and presenting them before the school as part of the Book Week program. In addition to this, two of the members spoke about their hobbies at a Senior Class assembly. Carl Schwenzfeier explained the interesting work of amateur radio broadcasting and receiving; Bill Bredehoft created a greater interest in photography through his talk. The club also presented several books to the library.

A successful season of sports was sponsored by the club. Touch football, basketball, and baseball were included as part of the athletic program which attracted much interest.

The frequent Quill and Dagger social affairs have become a part of DeVilbiss tradition. Especially memorable were the fall and spring roasts. In cooperation with the three girls' literary societies, the Q.D.'s helped to make the "Lit" dance a gala event both socially and financially.

• Helen Dennett, Marcia Dierks, Eleanor Dunham, Rosemary Engel, Martha Fleming, Bessie Folger, Virginia Hahn, Joan Kelly, Nancy Vasold, Eileen Vogler, Virginia Weeber, Miss Ellen Ashley.

The Sub-Deb Club was organized in 1934 for the purpose of enjoyable social activity. The combined efforts and capable leadership of Susan Ashenfelter, president; Doris Clevenger, vice-president; Catherine Clark, recording secretary; Dorothy DeMuth, corresponding secretary; Martha Fleming, treasurer; Miss Ashley, Mrs. Schwenke, and Miss Kelly, advisors, have produced a club year overflowing with social events of the most enjoyable nature.

One of the many social highlights was the tea given in the home of Bessie Folger for the newly inducted members. This event established a firm acquaintance between the new members and the old, and tipped the organization off to an excellent start in the yearly social race.

Spreads were looked forward to with great relish by these energetic Sub-Debs, and they entertained with these conglomerate feasts at frequent intervals. The food served at these repasts was plentiful and of infinite variety, for the girls were, in spite of their vociferous denials, very hearty eaters.

The annual fall roast, which was a major feature that occupied a most conspicuous position on the Sub-Deb calendar, was held at the home of Catherine Clark. This autumnal outing was planned months in advance and was awaited eagerly by every member, as it always afforded such a rollicking good time for all those who turned out for the annual hot-dog consumers' contest. The weather was rather nippy and everyone withdrew from Jack Frost to the fire, but what difference does a biting breeze make, when all true Sub-Debs gather?

The Sub-Debs took a high dive into the climax of the entertainment year, as they donned suits and caps and splashed in the Knights of Columbus' pool. At this gala event it was discovered, to the delight of all, that the greater majority of the members were lovers of the H_2O, and took a fiendish glee in ducking one another. Yes, these Sub-Debs were a versatile group.

Thus the Sub-Deb Club has passed an eventful year. To the remaining members, the senior girls leave a challenge for a more eventful season next year.

SUB-DEB CLUB

PHILALETHEAN

The "Phils", as the members of the Philalethean Literary Society are called by students of DeVilbiss, have carried forth an excellent program this year.

At a formal induction service in the home of one of the members of the society, the new members were installed. Then closely following this service, the annual "Phil" roast was held at Sidecut Park.

Teas for members of Scott and Libbey High School Philalethean Societies were presented in fancy style, as were those given by the other two schools in return. The sumptuous Basketball Banquet given each year to honor the basketball team was an event of March twenty-second in the dining hall of the Y.M.C.A. Mr. Joseph Yager was the speaker for the evening, and an excellent program was presented.

These social activities were not the only things of interest to members for, at regular meetings of the club, famous novelists, poets, essayists, and dramatists were studied and discussed.

All of these activities were due to the efforts of each member in cooperation with Martha Fleming, president; Katherine Buehler, vice-president; Charlotte Crossley, secretary; Nancy Wiggins, treasurer; and the painstaking guidance of Miss Ethel Willoughby, Miss Elaine Hirth, and Miss Ruth Smith.

The Twins' Club was organized this year to advance the status of twins, and to give them a chance for social activity in their own group. Under the leadership of Mary Howell, president; Marietta Sautter, vice-president; Bill Heckathorn, secretary; Gertrude Gudehus, treasurer; and the jovial and super-efficient advisers, Ned Featherstone (Fuzzy, to the twins) and Mrs. Featherstone, the group enjoyed a successful season.

Through the combined efforts of Theron Haas, president; James Gilbert, vice-presidnt; Robert Walker, secretary; John Yager, treasurer; Miss Brown and Miss Severens, advisers, the Museum Club has tried to broaden the biological knowledge of its members. The meetings, which were arranged by Jane Ann Kiplinger, included interesting talks on flowers and travel, book reviews, and taxidermy lessons.

LA JUNTA ESPANOLA

Se organizo La Junta Espanola hace cinco anos, el primer ano que se abrio la escuela. Con el presidente James Mumford, la vice-presidenta Barbara Brenner, secretarios Harry Thieman y Dorothy Downing, el tesorero Wilbur Bielefeldt, y la capellan Lola Nickel, el club ha tenido gran exito en todos sus proyectos uno de los cuales es enviar cajas de provisiones a los desgraciados antes de la Navidad. Sus consejeros son las senoritas Pauline Payne y Lucille Kerlin, y el senor Russell Brown. Las reuniones tienen lugar en las casas particulares de los socios. El programa por lo general consiste en un discurso por un huesped de honor, y a veces cantamos canciones de Espana y Mejico. En cada programa, tenemos varios papeles hechos por los estudiantes. A veces tenemos una pieza, un baile, o algunas poesias o discurso.

El senor David Sholin, un estudiante de la escuela superior de Libbey, quien estuvo en Espana al principio de la guerra civil, vio mucho de la accion, y nos dijo de su estancia alli. El senor Ramon Gonzalez, hablo acerca de las condiciones economicas y sociales de Mejico de hoy.

En la primavera, la junta presento una fiesta debajo de la direccion de Charlotte Crossley. El programa consistio en bailes espanoles, canciones por los estudiantes. Habia un discurso de bienvenido por Harry Thieman, y respuestas por un miembro de cada clase.

El 14 de abril, habia un programa panamericano en el aula para los estudiantes de la escuela bajo la direccion de un comite de La Junta Espanola.

The Pot O' Gold is just what the name signifies, a pot of gold at the end of a rainbow. In it are all the golden memories of this year at school that each and every student will want to treasure in his heart forever. There are individual pictures of the seniors as well as of all other students. There are also pictures of the skits that every student took part in during this one scene of life. The candid shots were taken by our roving photographer, who slipped up behind unsuspecting victims and snapped a photo when they were indulged in some form of activity or work.

The staff owes a great deal to the splendid cooperation of the faculty, especially that of Miss Pasch, the adviser. Her willingness to sacrifice her time and extend her most sincere advice were more than inspirations to every member of the staff. We are also indebted to Mr. Stalker, who had charge of all the business; and Miss Cooper, who supervised the art work. The advice and ingenuity of Mr. Louis Mathias, Director of Activities, were more than advantageous to all who entered his wide scope of knowledge for information pertaining to any or all subjects.

POT O' GOLD

ORCHESTRA

The foremost and outstanding purpose of the Orchestra is that of promoting good music in the school as well as in the home. Another of its worthy purposes is the endeavor to use school resources in order to give those students who have talent a chance to demonstrate it. The requirements for membership, though few, are rather strict. They are first, the ability to play a musical instrument; and second, the ability to appreciate the finer types of music.

In addition to playing music, the members of the orchestra spend one day a week learning the theory and harmony of music for which they receive a full credit toward graduation. Tapper's book of "First Year Harmony" is used as a text for these studies. Aided by the band this ambitious group worked with great vigor to produce the melodies of the "Overture of 1812". Needless to say this was an accomplishment which thrilled every member. An outside interest in music was stressed through reports on current events in this field. For additional reading many of the members were seen with copies of "Etude", "Metronome", and the "High School Music Monthly" magazines.

This group with the ardent cooperation of its officers and the advice of Miss Bessie Werum has progressed rapidly and its rise has yet to be halted. Although every member deserves recognition for his or her excellent work, the officers deserve special mention. This capable group of leaders were: Dorothy Kittle, president; Phyllis Schneider, vice-president; Evelyn Rappaport, secretary; Dan Mercer, treasurer; Clarice Potter and Ralph McBee, business managers.

The Orchestra in furthering its purpose, that of the promotion of good music, has participated in many activities, both at DeVilbiss and elsewhere. The audiences at the Art Museum and the May Festival, which featured the DeVilbiss orchestra this year, appreciated and enjoyed the efforts of this ensemble. In cooperation with the Glee Club the orchestra assisted in the presentation of "Purple Towers", a mysterious and highly entertaining operetta. In the spring they also contributed their services for the "Rose of the Danube", another operetta. At the National Honor Society inductions the music provided by the orchestra added much to the dignity of those occasions.

On Friday afternoon, November thirteenth, the members of the orchestra strayed from the classics to sponsor the seventh annual "Tiger Tango", the greatly anticipated afternoon dance. At this time the members obtained Al Hazelwood's orchestra to provide the music for them while they tripped the light fantastic. A large crowd attended and many valuable door prizes were given. Evelyn Rappaport and her committee composed of Ralph McBee, Alvin Kasle, Dan Mercer, Dorothy Kittle, and Clarice Potter were responsible for the enjoyable afternoon.

To raise funds for purchasing necessary equipment, and for defraying expenses incurred during the year, the orchestra gave their annual concert in the DeVilbiss auditorium. Ralph McBee and Phyllis Schneider played cello duets; Carolyn Brown rendered a piano solo and Alvin Kasle played a clarinet solo. This concert was well received by a very appreciative audience.

Let us say, in conclusion, that we are sure the student body realizes how much it owes to the orchestra and that in the future the students will help to further the cause of this worthy organization which has contributed so much to the school. May greater achievements be credited to those who will carry forth, in coming years, the purposes of this group.

In the fall of 1936 the Library Association launched its third successful year as an outstanding organization at DeVilbiss. The membership, which was open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors with an average grade of "B" in English and "C" in other subjects, numbered thirty willing workers who performed valuable services to the school.

One of the most outstanding activities was the sponsoring of National Book Week, with the aid of literary societies. During this week members of the association worked in an effort to secure more books for the DeVilbiss Library. Auditorium programs of story-telling, and book reviews by Reverend Walton E. Cole and Mrs. Paul L. Alexander were presented to the student body. Contests were sponsored and interesting displays were placed in different parts of the school.

At Christmas time came the annual library programs, planned by the club. These programs, to which the student body was invited, consisted of the telling of stories by the members of Mrs. Whaley's oral expression classes and of the singing of favorite Christmas carols by the Glee Club and the German Club.

In the interest of the school library, the club was concerned with the securing of autographs of noted living authors for the library books. Members of the club chose their favorite authors and wrote to them personally in an effort to gain possession of their autographs.

The theme of the programs for the year was "Living Authors". These programs were all carefully planned by special committees under Thelma Hetzel, program chairman.

Rollicking get-togethers in the homes of members, sumptuous spreads, and lively picnics and roasts were among the forms of social entertainment. Theater parties, a Christmas party, swimming, and skating were also listed among the good times.

To those future members, the legacy of the present members is the inspiration to carry on enthusiastically the club's purpose; namely, to promote an interest in the school library and to further an appreciation of good literature through the study of books.

"We believe in service for others, in health of mind and body to fit us for better service, and in world wide friendship. For this reason we are joining the American Junior Red Cross. We will help to make its work successful in our school and community, and will work together with Juniors everywhere in our own and other lands." This is our pledge; it expresses our purpose.

The former Junior Red Cross Council was reorganized this year into a club. We believed that perhaps a larger organization could encompass more branches of service. Although it would be impossible for every student to belong to one club, we feel that every student who serves in any way automatically becomes a member of the club. The work of the Red Cross is without limit, so our membership can be without limit too.

Every other Thursday we met in Room 152 to hold our meetings and plan our work. Our officers for the year were Bill Cranker, president; Mary Williams, vice-president; Betty Fuhrer, secretary; Phyllis Waters, treasurer. Miss Van Noorden was our very helpful adviser. One of our members, Perry Kimerer, had the honor of being elected President of the Toledo Junior Chapter of the Red Cross Council.

Our officers attended the four meetings of the city council, composed of representatives from other schools, to discuss with them the projects to be undertaken.

This year our organization rendered quite a number of commendable services. At Thanksgiving we sent favors filled with candy to the children at the Crippled Children's Home. The soldiers at Chillicothe were sent cards at Christmas time. Again, to celebrate Valentine Day, we sent a box of cookies and heart shaped candy to the crippled children. The art department made friezes for us to give to the Toledo Hospital to decorate their children's ward. Collections of money for the relief of flood sufferers were made through our organization. Later, when the families were established in tent cities, we made collections of toys for the children.

To carry on these projects money was needed. We then turned our efforts toward ways and means to raise the necessary sum. During the football season, we sold orange and black tissue wavers. We also gave two after school dances. Mary Williams acted as chairman for both affairs. Assisting her were Virginia Dingman, Phyllis Waters, Bud DeHaven, and Bill Cranker.

Next year we hope to fit our work even more to the needs of the city, and to help to the best of our ability the organization of which we are so proud to be a part—"The American Red Cross".

GIRLS' ATHLETIC SOCIETY

The Girls' Athletic Society inaugurated the 1936 fall season of social events, as well as its yearly calendar, with an afternoon dance, "The Pigskin Prance". The chairman for this dance was Mary Ruth Cravens. Eleanor and her Rhythm Renders furnished the music, and all in all, a delightful time was enjoyed by everyone.

Next on the calendar was the Co-ed Ball under the direction of Doris Clevenger, vice-president of the Girls' Athletic Society. This dance, which enabled more than four hundred girls to attend without an escort, was a gala affair.

- Harriet Spillman, Roberta Copic, Jenny Tucker Mary Ann McCarthy, Olga Sobeck, Kathryn Stacey, Lola Nickel, Adelaide Kehle, Eleanor Dunham, Virginia Gottshall, Frances Scott, Catherine Brown, Judy Patthey.
- Betty Dixon, Margaret Heyer, Betty Stott, Gertrude Gudehus, Jessie Harroun, Nancy Lamb, Marjorie Ettenhofer, Mary Ruth Cravens, Ruth Gudehus, Catherine Milne, Jean Clement, Doris Clevenger, Thelma Hetzel.
- Evelyn Thomas, Bonita Upton, Marjorie Hine, June Siddall, Marjorie Kimberly, Margaret Hardie, Martha Jane Hunt, Mary Howell, Mary Lou Whitney, Jane Shoemaker, Dorothy Barclay, Rosellen Parcell, Erna Hathaway.
- Genevieve Dickman, Rosemary Hatt, Phyllis Richards, Virginia Scharfy, Dorothy Marsh, Catherine Fait, Anita Mason, Evelyn Rappaport, Virginia Frey, Hellen Pollex, Mrs. Laurimore.

Then, in December, came another annual event. Football players, guests, parents, members of the faculty, and a large number of admiring students attended the Football Banquet at which boys and girls received awards for their achievements in the field of athletics. Thirty-six girls received the athletic "D", and this increased the membership of the society from eighteen to fifty-four members. Mr. Shaw, the genial gentleman from the South, and the favorite among his students, acted as toastmaster. Clarence Spears, known as "Doc" Spears to his friends and newspaper columnists, was the guest speaker.

Also, in December, several girls were given the unusual opportunity of viewing an exhibition of Modern Dance which was given in the Commodore Perry Hotel. Later, in the physical education classes, certain forms of this type of dance were presented to the girls.

Other events of this school year were swimming parties at Scott High School, a skating party, a hike, and a party in honor of the girls' parents.

RIDING CLUB

MARILYN WITTSCHECK ..... PRESIDENT
EVELYN SENTLE ..... SECRETARY
GOLA BECKERT ..... VICE PRESIDENT
LOLA NICKEL ..... TREASURER
MR. PIERRE PASQUIER ..... ADVISER

- Irma Grove, Marilyn Wittscheck, Gola Beckert, Lola Nickel, Regina Miller, Evelyn Sentle.
- Norma Haynes, Claribelle Hiltner, Kathryn McDonald, Millie Holden, Dorothy Haynes, Martha Heston.
- May Wagenman, Mary Jean Patch, Claudia Wolcott, Dorothy Burman, Jean Mutchler, Helena Mericle.
- Eileen Miller, Betty Schuster, Virginia Bell, Helen Burman, Rosemary Anderson, Mr. Pierre Pasquier.

The Riding Club, a band of enthusiastic equestrians, was organized to develop good horsemanship and to stimulate interest in this sport. To remain a member of the club, each girl had to ride at least once with the club and not miss more than three of the regular meetings. This strict ruling, of course, helped to make the group successful in all its undertakings.

The organization, which was chiefly athletic in its functions, had interesting emblems. Each girl wore a green riding vest on which she wore the club insignia, the head of a black horse on a circular orange background.

The society rode every Saturday that the weather permitted at the Douglas Meadows Riding Academy. At these weekly rides the girls learned to ride correctly and to handle their horses with great ease and skill. Contests in riding skill were held during the meetings, and prizes were awarded to the best performers.

Due to the untiring efforts and the cooperation of the girls, the club carried off many awards and honors in a show held at the Douglas Meadows Academy late in October. The contest was open to all the members of the academy, and the Riding Club entered as a group. Some of the members also entered the special feats individually. With all their success, these modest girls carefully concealed their cherished ribbons and metals from the public eye.

The group also heard an inspiring and instructive talk by Sergeant Howard of the 107th Cavalry.

Then there were social events to enliven the year's program. The most outstanding affair was a night ride, through the woods and surroundings of the Douglas Meadows Academy. Terminating the event was a roast with plenty to eat and plenty to talk about. This combination held on a clear cool moonlight night was a very special occasion.

These horsewomen were swimmers too as was shown by the number attending the splash party held at the K. of C. All sorts of strokes and dives were displayed skillfully by members and their friends.

Still there was more! Proving that they could also enjoy more quiet activity, the girls had a bridge party in the home of the club president. Great ability at this indoor game was shown by those who attended.

The group really carried through successfully their purpose and their plans for the year.

"When a redhead meets a red,
It's hard to keep his head,
We're temperamental and highly mental!
We are quick to laugh and quick to chaff
And we'll quick forget a grudge,
For we're forgiving—our way of living,
We have a reputation not to save a cent or dime;
Our life's a great vacation and a darned good time!"

This verse of the "Song of the Reds" which was written by the adviser, "Uncle Ned" Featherstone, expresses the true nature of the members of the club.

Did we say redheads? Yes, we said redheads. "Striving for the best in life and helping to promote friendship among the students of DeVilbiss" was their constant aim. Natural red hair and passing grades were the requirements for membership. The club had no insignia other than the flaming torch which the members carried with them at all times. With the slogan, "You can't beat a redhead", the club was extremely proud to be the only society of its kind in the city of Toledo.

Under the leadership of Winfield Vernier, president; Bertomae Hoobler, vice president; Lucille Raab, secretary; and Bob Reck, treasurer; the club in its first year of activity climbed the heights to success.

The society presented an act in the DeVilbiss Deviltries of 1937 in which many of its members took part.

The activity of the club was purely social. The regular meetings were usually held in the home of "Uncle Ned" and his wife. There, with plenty of pep and often an excess of food, the group enjoyed many happy hours. The programs were mostly impromptu since the members could not decide what sort of entertainment they wanted at the next meeting. Members of the club were the participants and through these programs much talent was discovered. Business meetings were another story. Due to the temperament of the redheaded members, the club was constantly reversing its opinions.

Yet, in spite of all these difficulties, the meetings helped to develop special abilities and talents among the club's members. They came happily through the first year, hoping for continuance of the club in the future, enjoying its every activity, and singing heartily together.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

Of special interest to those girls who enjoy cooking as well as working about the house, is the Home Economics Club. This club was formed with the purpose of establishing the connecting link between the girls' courses at school and their home environment. It is at this club that many helpful hints on both housework and cooking are brought up and discussed.

The only requirements for membership are an average grade of "C" in the Home Economics course and an avid interest in the subject matter presented in their courses as well as their problems at home.

The complete success this year of the club might be traced to its able leaders who were NaDean Rumis, president; Alberta Hooper, vice-president; Betty Abbott, secretary; and Jeanne Schroeder, treasurer. The leadership which rested in their hands was guided by the advice of the teachers of the Home Economics courses, Miss Marie Stoll, Miss Caroline Norton, Miss Mary Bargman, and Miss Ellen Ashley.

Each year the club follows a definite program which is built around one main subject. Glass, the subject which the girls selected this year, was especially appropriate; for the Art Museum, famous for its fine collection of ancient glass, offered much material for study. Under the direction of guides they toured the glass factories here in Toledo. In keeping with this subject, members of the club gave reports on the different phases of glass-making, and many interesting speakers who were brought in from outside added to the girls' extensive study of the subject.

The girls for one afternoon transferred their interest from glass to the more lively side of life, and the result was an afternoon dance on March fifth, for which the "Melody Maids" provided the proper tempo.

On December twenty-first the girls enjoyed a Christmas party in Miss Bargman's room. On the afternoon of March fifteenth, Virginia Roberts opened her home to the girls for their St. Patrick's day party. Later on the girls enjoyed several roasts and other parties which brought their gay season to a close.

MISS IVA GUIRE ..... ADVISER
MR. BALSAM ..... ADVISER

With an earnest desire to learn the use of various tools used in metalcraft work and the adaptability of numerous metals, the members of the Metal Craft Club executed their activities for the year. Following one main ideal, "To learn to make better use of leisure time", the club members worked diligently and enthusiastically. They made many useful articles and many fascinating trinkets which proved that their time was profitably spent.

The outstanding social event of the year was a card party, given on November fourth. A large group of card-lovers attended and spent an enjoyable evening chatting across card tables.

A capable group of officers led the club through a successful season, with the aid of Miss Iva Guire, who acted as advisor during the first semester, and Mr. Balsam, who took this position during the second semester.

AVIATION

WILLIAM FULTON ..... PRESIDENT
LLOYD GOON ..... SECRETARY AND TREASURER
EDGAR BALL ..... VICE-PRESIDENT
MR. PAUL HARTMAN ..... ADVISER

The DeVilbiss Aviation Club, the ambitious group of future air pilots who made all sizes and types of model aeroplanes during the year, was founded to stimulate interest in aviation. The "musts" for members are an interest in aviation, a willingness to attend all regular meetings, a maintenance of grades of "D" or better, and an active support and participation in all club activities.

Under the leadership of the capable officers and qualified adviser, the club progressed rapidly this year. The group studied the theories of flight and the construction and operation of model aeroplanes. In addition to perfecting model aeroplanes, the members of the club entered the City-Wide Model Aeroplane Contest and visited the Stinson Aircraft Company of Wayne, Michigan, where they gathered many valuable bits of information as they studied the plant in detail.

- Dorothy Hogo, Thelma Hetzel, Lettie Benedict, Ruth Badman, Barbara Drager, Margaret Baer.

The purpose of the Glee Club is to further the musical education of its members as well as to provide wholesome entertainment for the other students of the school. Qualifications for membership in this club are a singing voice, a love for music, and a willingness to work.

Early in the semester the DeVilbiss students and patrons were privileged to hear that popular and romantic star of radio and screen, James Melton, who with his accompanist Mr. Harold Dart, gave a musical treat. On the evening of January twenty-ninth, "Purple Towers", the first operetta of the season, was presented under the able direction of Mr. Ball. The second operetta, "Rose of the Danube", which was given in April proved that acting as well as singing was to be found among the talents of this group.

CLUBS WITHOUT PICTURES

The ALTAE PUELLAE organization was founded in 1933 to develop more poise, grace, and distinction among tall girls. To be eligible for this society, a girl must be at least five feet seven inches in height. This unique club advised by Miss Stoll and Miss Van Noorden was under the capable leadership of Lillian Melchoir, president; Wilma Downing, vice-president; Phyllis Snyder, secretary; and Nancy Vasold, treasurer.

The SORELLES were an active group who met bi-monthly to provide a social medium for girls with mutual interests. Jeanette Schaefer, president; Dorothy Boyde, vice-president; Nancy Wiggins, secretary; and Doris Punsky, treasurer, with Miss Bloom as adviser have combined their efforts to produce a year full of interesting events.

The QUILL AND SCROLL, international honorary society for high school journalists, was established to stimulate an interest in jouralism. Membership is awarded only to juniors and seniors who have performed outstanding work in journalism and have maintained "A" and "B" grades. This year the officers of the Thomas A. DeVilbiss chapter were Jane Herrick, president; Wilma Downing, vice-president; Barbara Cronberger, secretary; Robert Krumm, treasurer; and Miss Bloom, adviser.

THE DEVILBISS DIGEST

The DeVilbiss Digest, a distinctly different publication made its debut in January, 1937. Familiar, yet distinctive features closely related to school life were portrayed throughout the two issues. Especially noteworthy were the foreign columns written in French, Spanish, and German which challenged the language students to translate their interesting contents.

ATHLETIC

VARSITY AND INTRAMURAL

Varsity
sports were once the major athletic diversions. Cross country, football, basketball, and baseball were the sports that grasped and maintained the favored spot in the public eye from September until June. Then the picture changed and along with it, the program. The motto, "A sound mind in a sound body", remained intact, but a new slogan, "All student participation", was added to the regular sports routine. Now track, swimming, boxing, bowling, golf, and tennis have assumed an important position in the athletic program. The De-Vilbiss physical education department can now truly boast that the percentage of student participation is steadily increasing . .
Girls' intramurals as well as boys' are incorporated into the athletic routine and are enthusiastically supported by the modern Dianas of DeVilbiss. To archery, badminton, tennis, basketball, volley ball, and shuffleboard has been added field hockey, hitherto considered a college sport. The modern dance was rediscovered in a newer, more strenuous form, and has been embraced to the fullest degree by the girls . . The athletic program has been promoted with concentrated effort to develop in the students superb mental and physical health.

BOARD

Mr. Merritt C. Nauts, Principal, Mr. Louis Mathias, Mr. Ralph Swisher, Mr. Paul Hartman, Miss Mildred Schmidt, Miss Olive McHugh, Mr. S. B. Emery.

The DeVilbiss Athletic Board is made up of three permanent members and five elected members. The Board this year consisted of Mr. Pollman, Mr. Nauts, Mr. Mathias, Mr. Swisher, Mr. Hartman, Miss Schmidt, Miss McHugh, and Mr. S. B. Emery. The first three are permanent members, but the others were elected by the faculty at the beginning of the school year.

The duty of this board is to be the legislative as well as judicial body which controls all matters concerning athletics, from finances to eligibility. This Board awards letters to individuals on the recommendation of the coaches and also makes the selection of the coaches.

Mr. Norman Pollman, athletic director, is the person around whom all action of the board centers. Norm came to us from Libbey High School when DeVilbiss opened its doors, and his record here has been as sparkling as the one he left at the South Side School. He is a graduate of Ohio State University where he starred in track. Since coming here he has built DeVilbiss up as a decided threat in track against any one, any time. Last year he turned out one of the finest track teams in the state, and we hope that his teams will continue to be just as successful.

Our athletes are known throughout the state for their fine training, physical condition, and team spirit. The credit for this is due largely to the men whose pictures appear on this page. The coaching staff is headed by Mr. Harry Rice, who is a teacher of sociology. Harry is a graduate of the University of Iowa where he starred in football and basketball, the two sports he coaches here.

On the football field and hardwood floor, Mr. Rice is assisted by Ollie Klee, Lars Wagner, and Joe Collins. These four men make as complete and capable a staff as any to be found in this city. The boys of this school are indeed fortunate in having such competent men under whom to work and play.

Mr. Wagner, in addition to coaching the above mentioned sports, coaches baseball. Each year his team has been a serious contender for the state title.

The excellent condition of our athletic teams is due to the splendid work of the medical staff. Dr. Rae, the team physician, is a specialist at Flower Hospital, and his well equipped institution is open to any boy when he requires medical attention. Bob Humler, who is Doc Rae's assistant at the hospital, is the trainer from whom the boys received such excellent care.

TIGERS AND

The Tigers of '36 compiled a record which has been equalled only once in the history of DeVilbiss. On a comparatively short schedule, these lads lost only to the championship Waite team, and tied the powerful Bulldogs from Scott. In the eight games played, the striped cats pushed over 207 points to their opponents 33; and in all games, except the one with Scott, they outrushed their foe completely.

The season came to a brilliant climax Thanksgiving morning when the Tigers scored on the opening play against Libbey, and continued from there to administer the most thorough drubbing ever handed our Turkey Day rival.

TIGER CUBS

Under the excellent leadership of Joe Collins and his assistants, Artie Brighton and Warren Densmore, the Cubs had a fairly good season.

The young Tigers, by winning two games, tying two, and losing one, finished the season in a three way tie for second place in the city league. Although the lightweights played only five games, all against city opponents, these games afforded very good experience for the boys, and many of them have already been cited as material for next year's varsity.

Six years it has been growing. And in those six years the athletic institutions of DeVilbiss High School have built up a tradition that is second to none in the city. The "Doc" Berlin Trophy, representative of outstanding excellence, presented to Bill Luther on the football team, is rapidly gaining tradition and is the award most prized by an athlete in the city. The most important factor in the growth of tradition is the success of the athletic teams, and De Vilbiss accepts no rival as a superior. In the scant six years that the school has been in operation, no Tiger team has ever ended up in the cellar position in any sport.

It is indicative of the spirit of the DeVilbiss teams that in the first season of play the football eleven took a seven point lead on a city team and held on for dear life against overpowering odds to win the first intra-city contest ever captured by a Tiger team. Growing into the blood of every wide awake student of our school, whether or not he happens to be an athlete, is the expanding prestige of DeVilbiss. For the tradition does not end with the inter-scholastic sports. The student who does not participate in athletics may do as much to extend the reputation of the school throughout the state. The Sportsmanship Trophy can be won by the student body alone and would be valuable in broadening the prestige of DeVilbiss.

TRADITION

Tigers are die-hards. And could one find a more desirable trait in a team? In spite of the grim joke played on them by Lady Luck, losing two games early in the season by one point, the basketball team returned to the battle and took the city league lead back before losing two more games to end up in second place. There is an example of growing Tiger Tradition. No team could display that spirit without the student body rooting for them, win or lose.

PERRY KIMERER—Perry was one of the two three-year varsity men. He was the captain and one of the most popular players on the squad.

LARRY WICKTER—Even though he was playing his first year of varsity football, Larry was known as one of the hardest running backs in the city.

PAUL BENNETT—"Deke" has been on the squad for three years and he was a demon on defense. His accurate center passes were a great asset to the team.

DON WISEMAN—Although Don lacked weight, he was a fast, hard working player. In spite of his handicap, he spent two years on the varsity squad.

BOB GINTER—Bob gained recognition as a hard charging back, but he was best known for his drive and great team spirit.

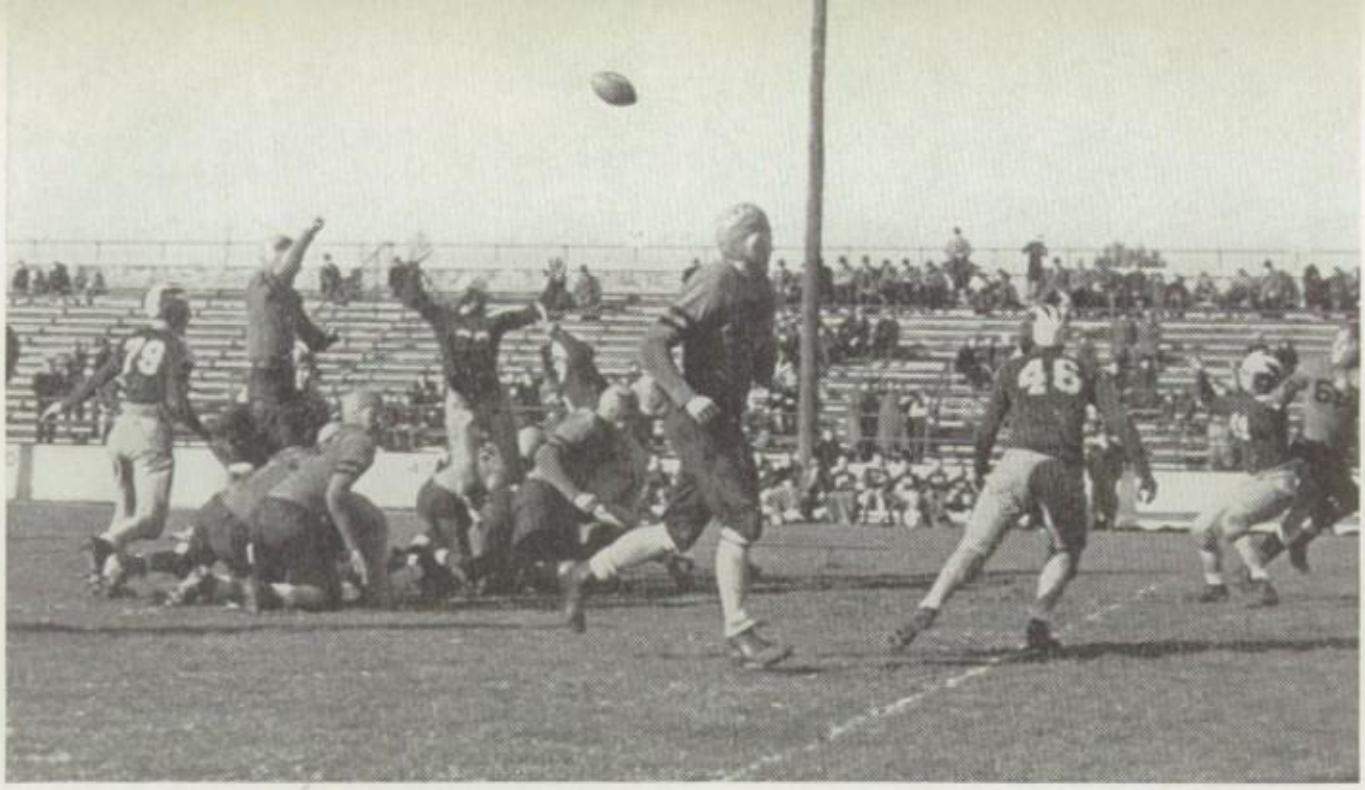
JOHNNY MANORE—Johnny was handicapped by lack of weight, but his speed and spirit won him a position on the team this year.

CHUCK MYERS—Chuck got a late start in football, but at the end of the season he was one of the most capable and aggressive backs.

LESTER FOUGHT—Les won the battle for the "other end position." He was one of the best defensive players on the team this year.

BOB BARCLAY—Bob was a steady, reliable player. He played a "bang-up" game all year, but played the game of his life in the Thanksgiving day tilt.

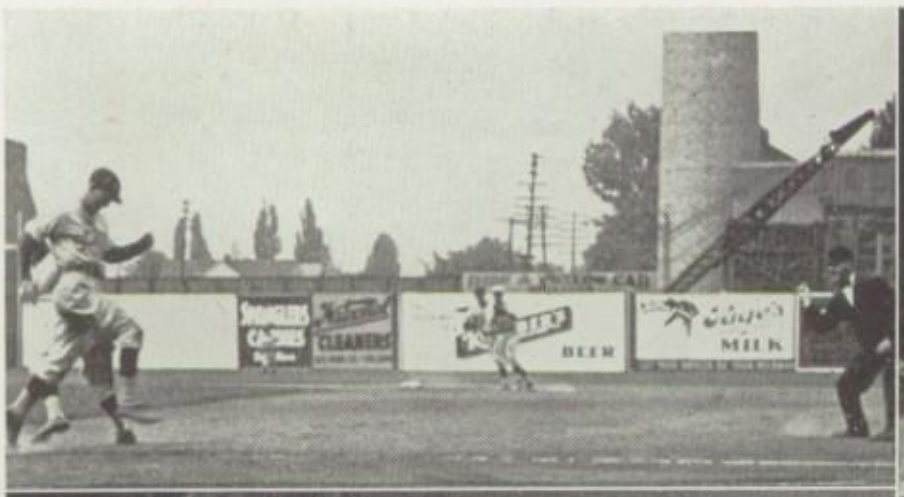
BOB MEYERS—Bob was the "toughest" man on the team; he couldn't be hurt. He was a hard runner and was difficult to bring down when he got going.

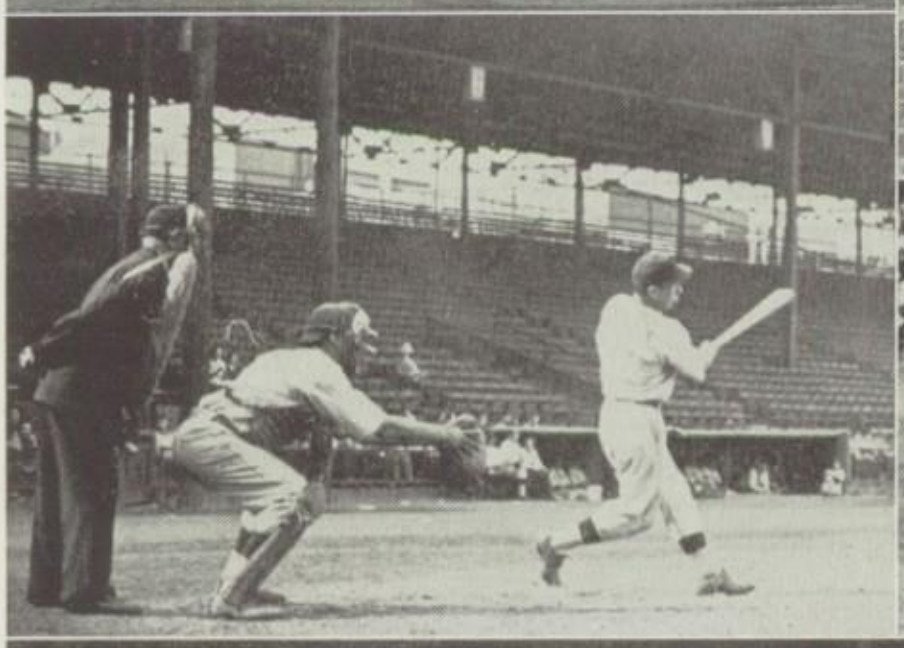


FOOTBALL · TRACK

Football, baseball, basketball, and track, the four major high school sports are the ones which are actively participated in at DeVilbiss. It is considered quite a privilege to win a place on any one of these teams. In these main inter-scholastic sports competition of the keenest sort can always be expected because the boys chosen for these teams are the few who make good out of the hundreds who try out. After two or three days of preliminary work in any sport, the real conditioning and training begins. Then also, the eliminating process begins, for many of the boys soon discover that they are not able to compete with those of a more rugged spirit. When the squad is down to the size where the coaches can work with the boys, individual instruction is given. These boys who remain are the ones who are willing to take orders, and who are eager to work to better the team as well as themselves.

BASEBALL • BASKETBALL





BASEBALL

Captain Roy Lee led the Tiger baseball team through a very successful season in 1936. The DeVilbiss team won the city championship for the third consecutive year with a record of six games won and none lost in the city league race. During the entire season, playing against some of the state's finest teams, the DeVilbiss nine had a record of eighteen games won and four lost. On two occasions the Tigers entered the hall of fame—once when they executed a snappy triple play in the Waite game which they eventually won 3 to 2 after playing nine innings; later Maynard Simon reached the heights when he pitched a no hit no run game against Blissfield. This game the Tigers won 2 to 0. Marshall Carlson also won a no hitter for the Tigers, this time against Scott; but the Bulldogs managed to get a run somehow.

Al Ortman, Bill Luther, Lefty Lee, Paul Welch, and Joe Gee led the Tigers in batting. The fielding honors went to Captain Lee, who was one of the finest defensive players developed here.

The team line-up according to position was as follows: Lee, first base; Schaeffer, second base; Ortman, shortstop; Gee or Bob Barclay, third base; Welch, left field; Luther, center field; Tom Keating or Dick Volk, right field; John Pioch, Gene Warwick, or Medford Barr, catcher; Simon, Carlson, Gerwick, Dick Welch, Bob Hill, or Milt Runner, as pitcher.

● Placed second in City. ● Placed second in District. ● Placed third at Ohio Wesleyan relays—35 schools. ● Placed second at Miami relays — 30 schools. ● Placed third at Mansfield relays — 60 schools.

During the 1936 track season, the DeVilbiss team made a record which it may show with pride. Led by their captain, Frances Maher, the Tigers finished near the top in all the meets and gained state-wide recognition in some of the larger ones.

The thinclads opened the season with wins over Woodward and Libbey, but were defeated by the powerful Bulldogs from Scott. When the boys went outside to the cinder track they really hit their stride. Against a field of fifty schools at Mansfield, the Tigers captured third place. This was a close meet all the way. The next week in another close meet at the Ohio Wesleyan relays, the boys again won third place. This time they competed with sixty-three schools. At Miami University the boys ran a very close second to Scott. The Tigers were in the lead until the last two events.

Several of the boys won places in the district and state meets, but not enough to win either of these coveted titles. Outstanding on the team were Captain Maher in the 220 yard dash, Forrest Fordham in the shot put and 100 yard dash, Al Carr and Brooks Buderus as dash men.

The sprint relay team, composed of Maher, Carr, Fordham, and Buderus, was the most outstanding relay team ever developed here. In every meet, except the state meet, this team won first place, and in so doing, set new records.

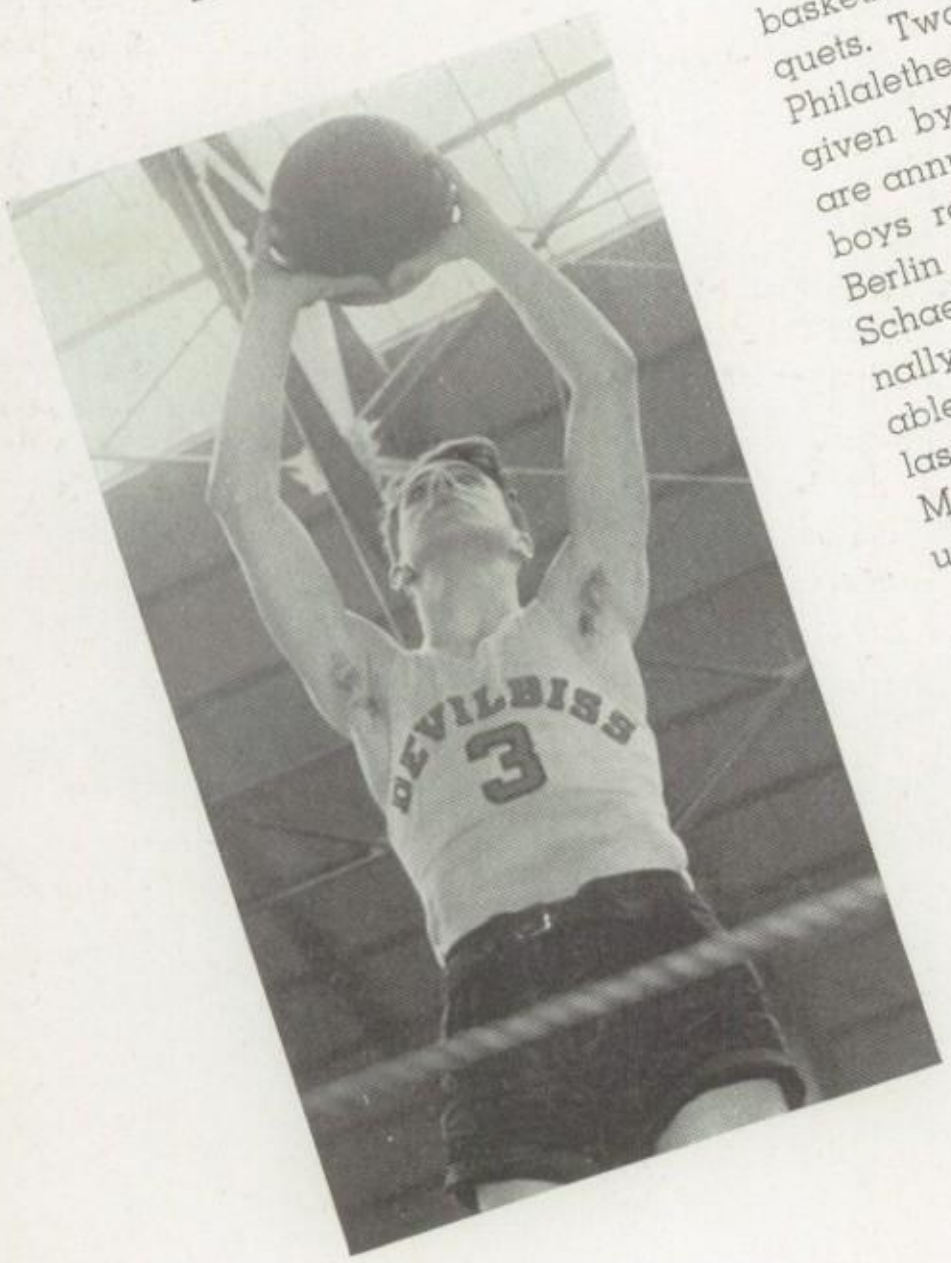
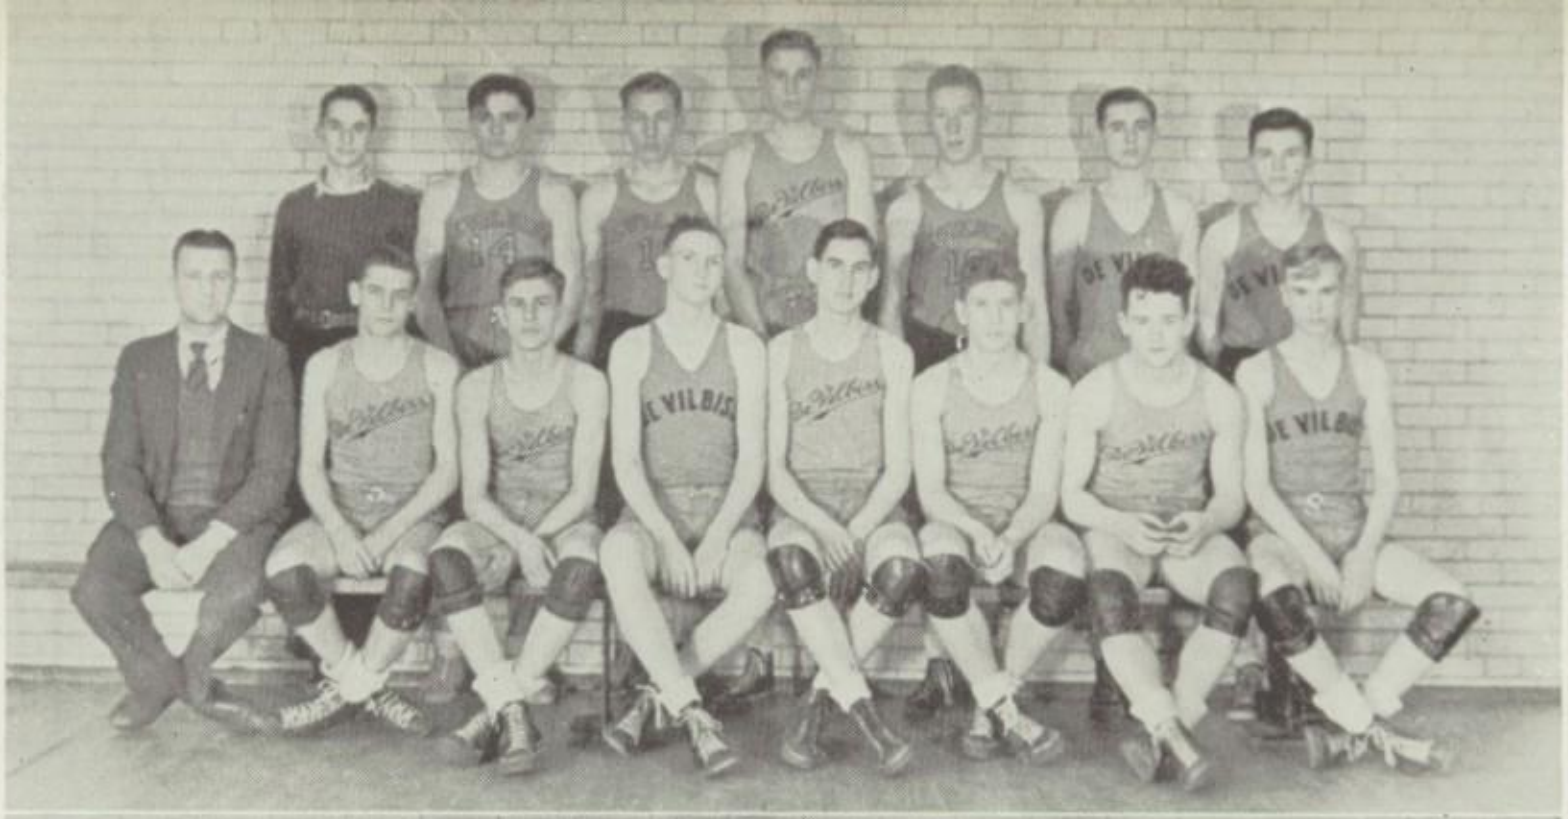
BASKETBALL



Each year after the district tournament the basketball players are feted at several banquets. Two of these, the one given by the Philalethean Literary Society and the one given by the West Toledo Exchange Club, are annual affairs. At the latter, this year the boys received their awards and the "Doc Berlin Trophy" was presented to Gene Schaeffer. Although this trophy was originally intended to go only to the most valuable football player of the year, the honor last year was extended to basketball, and Mr. Schaeffer's name goes on the trophy under that of Marshall Carlson.

During the regular basketball season, the boys always have these banquets to look forward to and it is really a pleasure and a privilege to attend them. The fellows always have, then, something besides just the pleasures of playing during the season to look back upon. Guest speakers of real merit are always on hand to leave a final message with the players that caps a real climax to the whole year.



VARSITY SQUAD (bottom)

After dropping two early season games by close scores, the Tigers came back to take the city league lead by winning seven straight games to replace Central. However, the Bengals could not hold the pace and dropped the remaining two games in the season to take second place.

Mr. Rice called this squad, "the best five to ever represent DeVilbiss on the courts." The quintet could get no better than an even break with out-of-town opponents, winning three and losing the same number by this route.

- First Row—Manager Robbins, Barclay, Schaeffer, Bennett, Welch.
- Second Row—Coach Rice, Heer, Kearney, Haag, Siemens, Luther.

LIGHTWEIGHT SQUAD (top)

Woefully, the lightweights found themselves thrown out into the toughest competition faced by a Cub five in many a year. The team made remarkable progress toward the end of the season and threw a hearty scare into the champion Scott team in their last league encounter.

The boys all worked very hard and some are now primed to take over the shoes of the graduating varsity men. From this excellent squad should come the mainstays of future Tiger Fives.

- Coach Klee, Manager, Folger, Larson, Bowman, Dunsmore, Oatis, Griffith, Heinze.
- Manager Jack Kirkbride, Urschell, Kanney, Runner, Jones, Welch, Woodward.

SWIMMING

Under the patient guidance of Coach Fred Walton, the Tiger Tankers experienced the most successful season the team has yet known. After a short training session, the natators splashed to victory over Waite, Lima Central, Mansfield, and Adrian before losing to Fremont, last year's state champions. Then the powerful Sandusky team administered the worst defeat of the year to them. However, this only served to inspire the swimmers, and they completed the regular season with repeat wins over Waite and Adrian. Thus their record stands at 6 victories against 2 defeats.

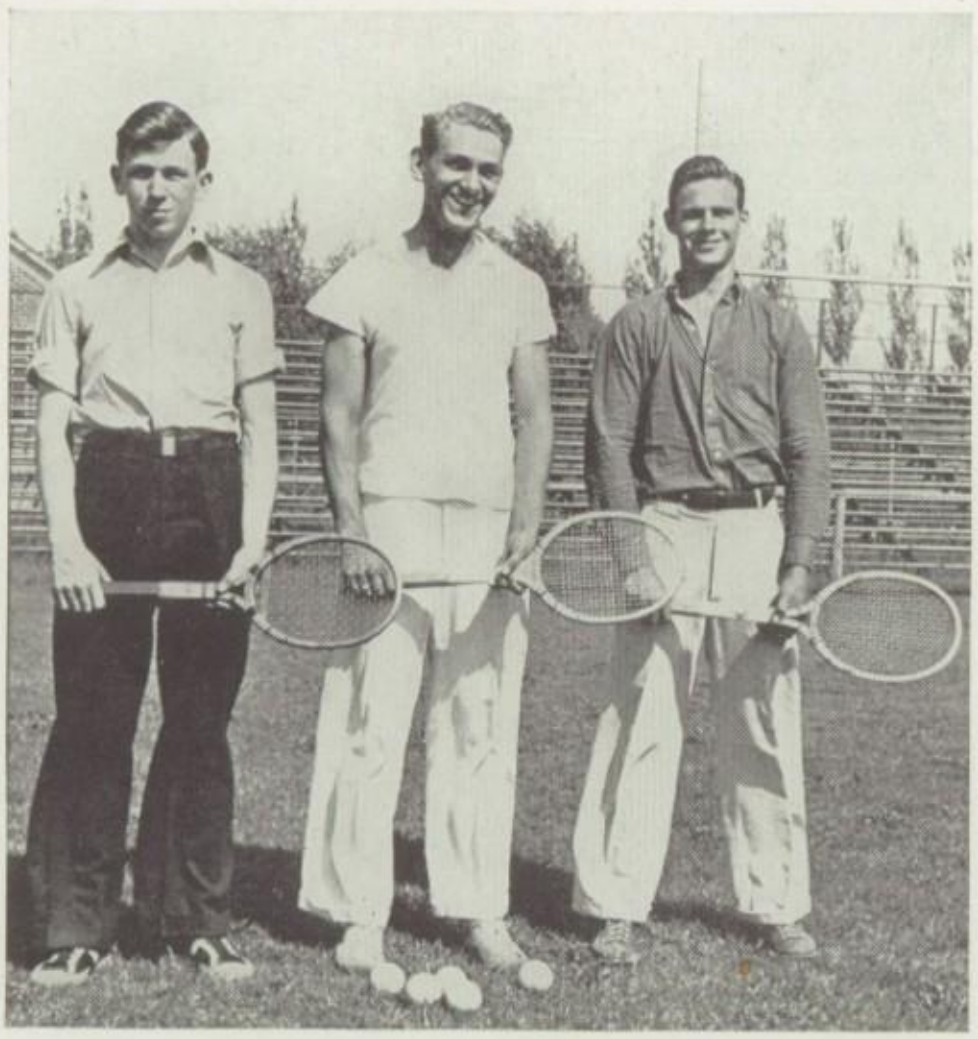
Practice was alternated between the Scott and Y.M.C.A. pools. Although the meets were not well attended, a joint mass meeting with the basketball team held in the school auditorium lent encouragement to the swimmers. It was greatly appreciated, and showed that the student body realized the handicap of the team in not having their own pool. This is a much desired improvement which we hope future tank teams will be able to enjoy.

Captain Dan Schauss distinguished himself in the district meet at Fremont and the state meet at Columbus, as he did throughout the year. Corwin and Zamore, with Doug Donovan—a former DeVilbiss breast-stroke star—as their instructor, turned in fine performances in the 100 yard breast-stroke, as did Warner in the back-stroke. Bowers, Hansen, Knecht, and Maher frequently placed in their respective free style events, while Tate showed exceptional promise as a diver. Other members who appeared in the meets were Van Sickle, Pomeroy, Metzger, Black, Albrecht, and Turner.

Throughout the year the team showed marked improvement. Prospects for next year are excellent, as only 4 team members, with Captain Dan Schauss as the greatest loss, are not returning. Coach Walton, who cannot be complimented enough for his valuable time and effort freely given, hopes again to lead a successful team in 1938.

By taking second place in the city league race last spring, the DeVilbiss Tennis Team had a successful season. Last year was the first year for Toledo to have a high school tennis league and one of its restrictions was that a school could not have more than four players on the team. Our representatives last year in the "singles" were Jack Fox and Ed Rickel, while Kenneth Meyer and Matthew Nemeyer made up the doubles team. All of these boys did well inasmuch as they won a majority of their matches and were defeated in city competition only by the champions from Libbey.

TENNIS



When the 1936 scholastic golf season closed, the DeVilbiss record was as follows: twelve matches won, six lost. This fine squad of boys finished second in the city league, and although they were overshadowed by the strong Libbey team, they made a good showing in all their matches and in the state tournament. Against Scott, the Tigers lost two heartbreakers, both decided by a single point on the final green. The other schools, however, did not share the Bulldogs' good luck when they met the Tigers on the fairways.

DeVilbiss was led by Marshall Carlson who was one of the most accurate of all local shotmakers. Besides Carlson, other seniors on the team who played regularly and received letters were: Pomeroy, Zam, Shuller, Brown, Marok, and Hammer. The nucleus of this year's team was built on the three returning lettermen, Jack Lindberg, Abner Martin, and Don O'Neil. These boys played in almost all of the matches and showed up so well that it was to be expected that the Tigers would be strong this year.

- TENNIS—Kenneth Meyer, Edward Rickel, Jack Fox.
- GOLF—1st Row—Kanney, Lindberg, Carlson, Martin, Muckenthaller.
- 2nd Row—Coach Swisher, Don O'Neil, Chester Opracz.

INTRAMURALS

The program of this year's intramurals was featured as it usually is by the home-room basketball league. This league was composed of boys from about thirty different home rooms, and the various classes played after school different nights of the week. The freshmen played on Tuesday, the sophomores on Thursday, and the juniors and seniors on Friday. At the end of the season, the champs from each class met in a tournament to determine the school champions. In this tournament the freshmen were represented by Miss Stowe's home room, the sophomores by Miss Fischer's, the Juniors by Mr. Rice's, and the seniors by Mr. Bricker's. The final games were very interesting; the underclassmen were soon put out and a bitter battle ensued between the juniors and the seniors. After trailing all the way, the juniors pulled the game out of the fire in the final seconds.

The success of this intramural program was upon the shoulders of Carl Meyer, Commissioner of Athletics, and Don Bennett, a new man in our physical education department. Carl and Don spent many long hours after school working with these boys and much credit belongs to them for creating such an interesting and well balanced schedule

GIRLS' ATHLETICS

Our three first ladies in the Physical Education Department have been an inspiration to all girls in their classes.

Miss Gottshall, known to her fellow teachers as "Elsie," made many a girl realize the pleasing effect that a freshly starched and laundered gym suit makes in the gymnasium. Her lovely yellow and aqua marine suits and her "once-viewed" scarlet shorts broke the monotony of the usual blue and green uniforms.

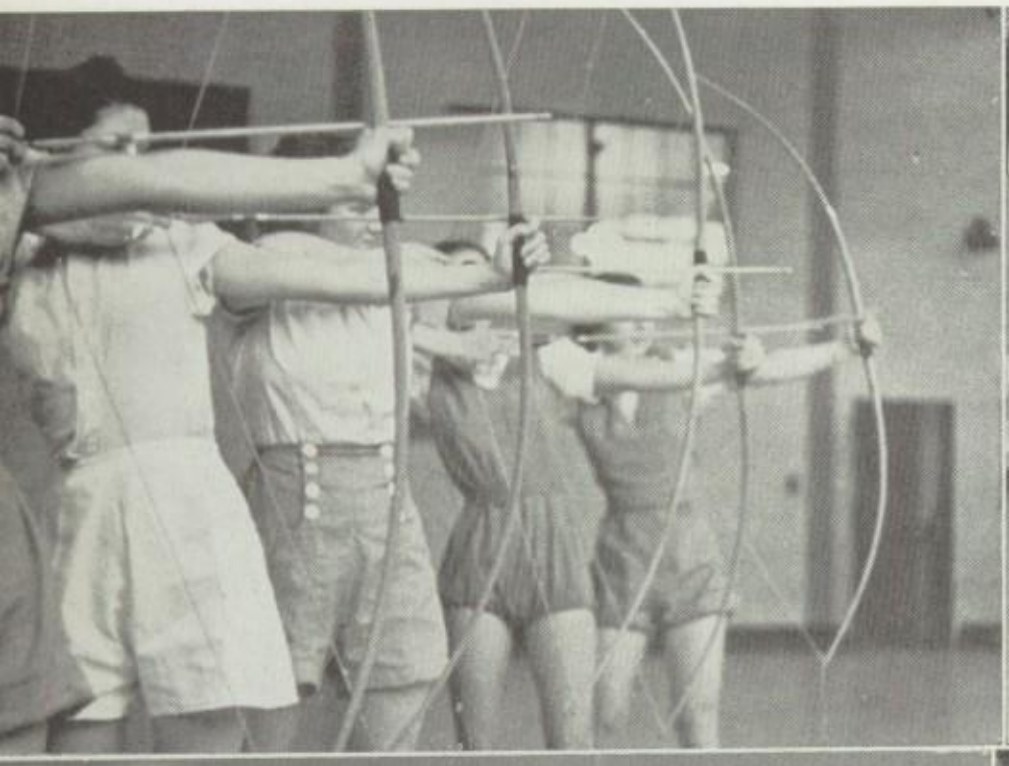
Then "Sib," or rather Mrs. Don Sharpe, helped many would be young Robin Hoods when their arrows failed to wing within a foot of the target. Her understanding and sympathy will long be remembered by the departing senior girls.

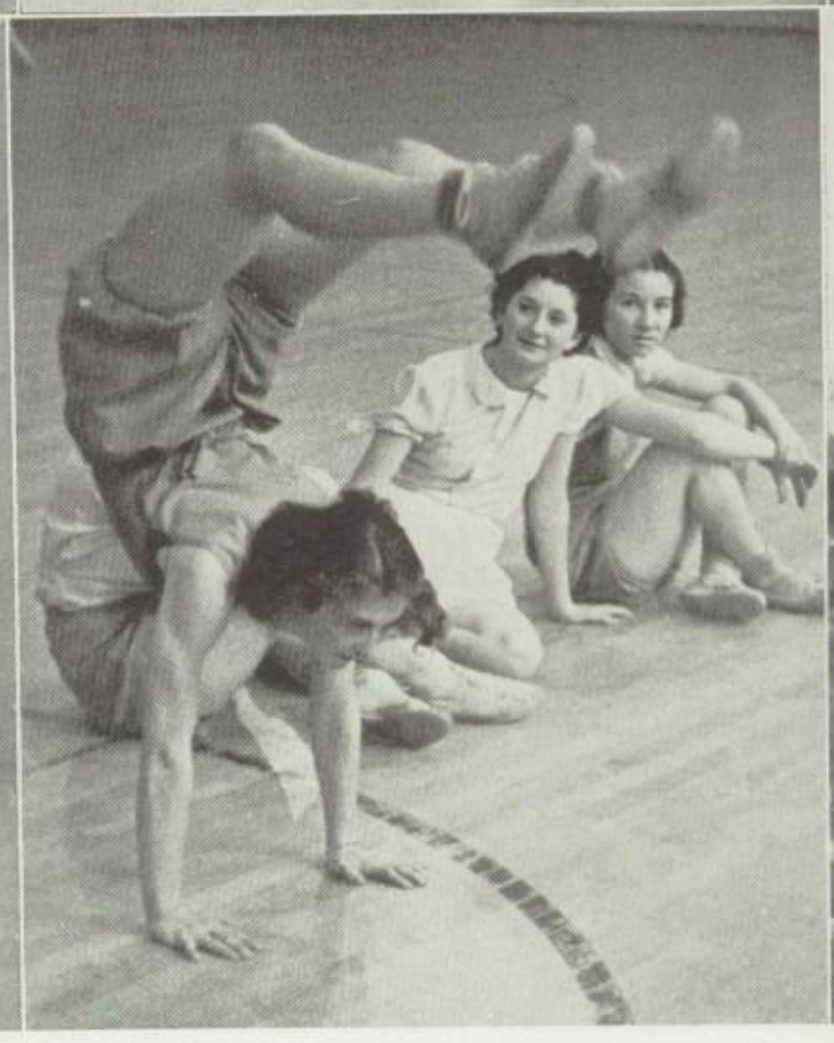
Known to her beloved Girl Scouts as "Skipper," Mrs. Burley Laurimore made tap-dancing an enjoyable recreation for all her classes. Also, her melodious square dance calling and folk-dancing delighted many a fun-loving freshman. Quite frequently, a stumbling and awkward freshman boy went into her social dancing classes and came out a confident and skilled young "Astaire."

We were also graciously aided by three rather unknown but well-liked assistants, Bessie Schmidt, Helen Corwin, and Helen Erickson.

Will we ever forget . . . Lois Thompson's fatal shot into the paint bucket . . . the imprint in the mud-puddle on the hockey field left by Vivian Levey's white shorts . . . Jane Shoemaker's constant bickering on the gym floor . . . Eliene Cooper's immovable bones after an hour of Modern Dance . . . Marjorie Hine's (un) sure shots from the middle of the floor . . . Roberta Copic's desperate attempts to fall down gracefully . . . Dorothy Barclay's unmistakable lunging for the "boid" with her badminton racket . . . Margaret Hardie's energetic refereeing . . . Genevieve Dickman's southern draw (all) . . . Ruth Hahn's "stop and go" shoes . . . Doris Clevenger's "swagger in my walk" . . . the guarding "Tower of Pisa" (Mary Ruth Cravens) . . . Ginny Frey's incomparable technique of sliding over people's backs . . . Betty Stott's striped shorts (we still think they were her Dad's) . . . Margaret Heyer's dark loveliness accented by her white gym suit . . . Kate Olmstead and Betty Ann Castle's care (howling) in the dressing room . . . "Ginny" Weeber's first basket . . . Jean Clement's lankiness and contagious laughter . . . Martha Fleming's "knee-action" on the gym floor . . . Marjorie Van Auken's hair raising leaps . . . Kathryn Stacey's patch "what" didn't match . . . Evelyn Rappaport's frog dive into the Scott pool . . . the aches and pains derived from Modern Dance . . . Jane Brint's "hi keed" . . . Lola Nickel's "dog-like" determinedness . . . Margaret Holley's latest dance creations . . . the triumph of the Champion Junior Basketball Team (mmmmm) . . . Helen Aiken's remarkable technique for a freshman . . . Ruth Gudehus and her shadow, Gertrude, or vice-versa . . . Harriet Spillman's accurately aimed arrow . . . that long legged sophomore, Mary Jean Patch . . . "Monty" Wolfe's dangerous basketball passes . . . Ruth Fitzgerald's cool, deliberate playing . . . Jeanne Smith's champion Freshman team . . . Marilyn Fox's accurate shots that worried many a junior and senior . . . the razzing given to certain freshmen referees (Donna Carsten) . . . Mary Dennen's form-fitting (?) blue jersey shorts . . . and last but not least the mad rush to dress in eight minutes?

ATHLETES OF THE





WEAKER SEXTION

The members of this "weaker sextion" have had many ways and opportunities to display their numerous skills and talents in the field of sports throughout the past year.

Well, look who's here! Can that possibly be Cathryn Fait, Jean Mallendick, Kathryn Stacey, and Adelaide Kehle attempting to split the apple in the upper left hand picture? That's' right. They were only a few of the many girls who enjoyed archery throughout the fall and spring seasons.

Field Ball, Soccer, and Hockey were among the other games participated in throughout the physical education classes. In the lower right hand picture, a group of girls may be seen playing Field Ball. How grateful were the juniors and seniors for the protection given them by the shin guards made by members of the Girls' Athletic Society. Ski-pants, brightly striped and flowered culottes, and even lavender and brown lounging pajamas caught the spectator's astonished eye as he viewed these active outdoor sports.

The young lady in the upper right, whom we see from a chin view, is Marjorie Van Auken. From all appearances, it seems as though Marjorie was successful in that toss-up.

After the Basketball season, Volley Ball was introduced along with the individual games such as: badminton, shuffle board, deck tennis, bowling, and table tennis. Virginia Bartley, a skilled acrobat, is seen in the lower center picture; she is executing a difficult hand-stand.

As the warm spring season approached, everyone prepared for Baseball and Head-Pin Baseball. What a grand and glorious day it was when the girls were allowed out in the warm sunshine once again.

Throughout the whole physical education course, each girl was given the opportunity to discover a sport in which she might actively participate and enjoy.

And so, as the school year with its physical education course passed on, the Seniors left with pleasant memories, and the under classmen looked forward to another interesting year in the field of sports.

INTRAMURALS AND AWARDS

Step right up folks; see the greatest show on earth. Cast your orbs over this magnificent array of talent photographed from all parts of DeVilbiss High School. Lean a little closer, ladies and gentlemen.
For the insignificant sum of one flip of this page, you are entitled to roam unchecked through the spacious halls of DeVilbiss, to meet face to face, the people about school. Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer gave you "Men in White", starring Clark Gable. Now we, the class of '37, present to you
"Ladies in White" starring those brow-soothers of the snowy robes, the girls of the home-nursing classes. All work and no play makes Jack and Jill very dull young people. You can't miss those sparkling eyes, those gleaming teeth shown in merry smiles illustrating the jovial night life that occasionally holds full sway at the DeVilbiss entertainment centers. Get your tickets at the booth, folks; the big show is beginning; the trumpets blare; the drums roll. It's the March of Time!
"Risen from the Ranks" in true Horatio Alger style!
What a difference a vowel makes! In one you work at play; in the other you play at work.
"Let the memory be green." Herein is the greatest collection of candid shots ever to be exhibited.

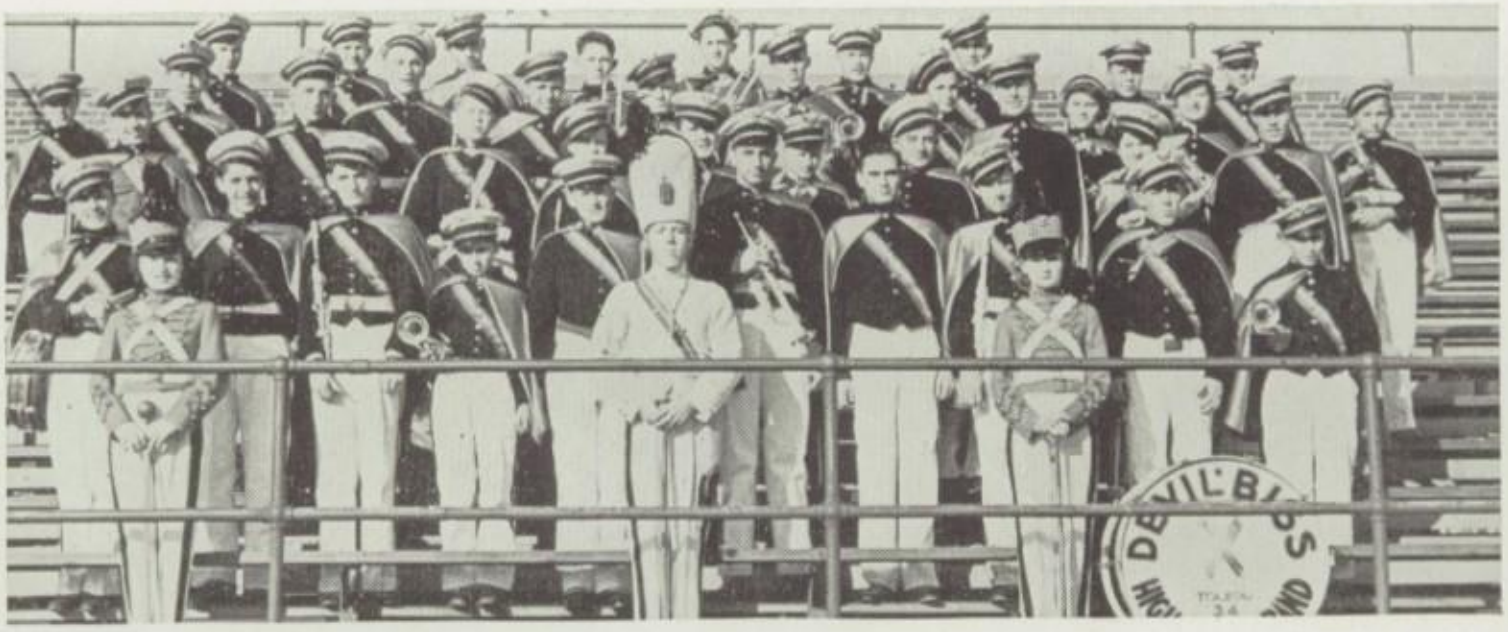
THE BAND PLAYED ON

I love a parade, and so do you—especially when the DeVilbiss Band, in full regalia, swings jauntily down the field behind that strutting drum-major, Herbert Underwood (or is he Robert? After all these years at DeVilbiss, we still can't tell one from the other.) who steps mighty "high, wide, and handsome" in snappy rhythm to the strains of a martial air. At the football games between the musical selections and the intricate figures performed by the marching Band to hold the interest of the spectators between halves, the entire band climbs to the bleachers and becomes a part of the enthusiastic mob. Who's the power behind the football throne? The Band of course! It works this way—their tuneful renditions of stirring marches inspire the students who, by their shouts and cheers and songs, urge the team on to victory. How could we manage without our Band?

Our musical army participate not only in school parades and at football games, but they marched in, tootled at, and thrilled all at the Armistice Day parades, and at the Santa Claus Parade.

Spring burst forth with her balmy breezes, the winter snows were cast away, and along with them parades, for which the Band substituted the more gentle types of musical entertainment; namely, the concert which the entire Band presented in the school auditorium. The De Vilbiss Band was also an integral part of the annual Spring Festival that was presented in the early part of May by the Toledo Blade. Every High School Band participated in this municipal activity, and our Band was there too making merry melody.

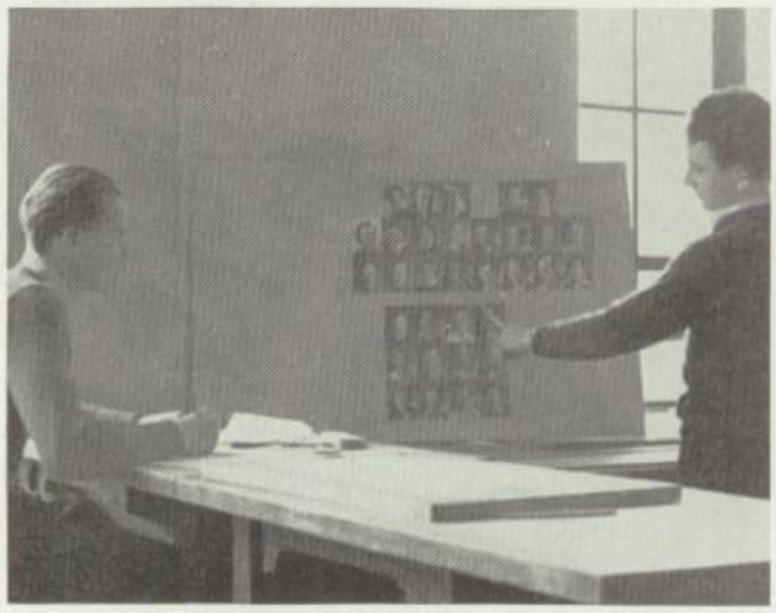
The DeVilbiss High School Band was organized in 1931 under the leadership of Mr. Guy Sutphen and has made amazing progress since its beginning. This musical organization which gives untold enjoyment to both its members and its audience is also a fully accredited course, and its members receive the same number of credits as from any of the regular courses of the general curriculum. There are a few necessary requirements for membership in this musical organization. One must love music, and have the ability to play some musical instrument of the wind, reed, or percussion type, and have a general knowledge of music. These requirements have been set up merely to ascertain that the members of the Band will be qualified musicians who will take an interest in the work.



LOUDER
PLEASE

At DeVilbiss it's spring football practice—and these boys begin by stretching their toes. It's a great idea . . . Just as snug as two bugs in a rug are two young ladies in a blanket; who wouldn't brave the cold to see our team win? . . . These buddies don't need to eat Wheaties. They have De-Vilbiss pep . . . It's a sure sign spring is here when the water flows freely and there are fresh specimens to dissect . . . A typical pose? . . . Chin up a little more, bend the knee a trifle. Now hold it! There's nothing like drawing the best things from real life . . . Too many cooks may spoil the broth, but not a cake—especially when it's stirred up by three of our cooks . . . We insist that it's not a section of the Toledo zoo—two prominent "men about school" talley the daily proceeds . . . Hurry, hurry, hurry! He who has his money ready is he who gets a seat on the school bus—or does he?

LIFE AT DEVILBISS



When we're out together studying back to back . . . the fashion mannequin was photographed with her mothers at a recent style show . . . Rhumba rhythm plus Spanish shawls plus aroz con pollo yields a Spanish Fiesta . . . No, he looks better over here. We are of the opinion that the Chuck Brown in the lower corner has the makings of either a first rate policeman or a fire-stomper-outer . . . That isn't a chalk line; it's the guard rail around the parking lot . . . If knowledge is wealth, and if he continues to study, he'll be a millionaire, maybe . . . Back from lunch (hot dogs and a milk shake) . . . Now let me see; someplace I read the answer to that problem. Where? . . . Another student uses the files in the college room to assure herself that she won't be carrying seven subjects as a senior . . . If the toothpick comes out clean the cake is done--we hope.

LET THE MEMORY BE GREEN

Stage Page

The stage is set; the players are ready; the lights are dimmed. Teasingly the curtains part disclosing an awe-inspiring scene. Then Dulcey took the stage and tickled your funny bone. Or perhaps it was an operetta that thrilled you. "Rose of the Danube" and "The Purple Towers" were magnificent productions. Excitement was not lacking in the Junior play, "Tiger House." How you sat on the edge of your seat and shivered with fear when the lights went out! Unique and educational was the Tambouritza serenade presented by a quartet from Jugoslavia. Movies, too, you viewed with interest. There in the black silence you shed a tear for Florence Nightingale and secretly applauded Cecil Rhodes. You were never bored with lectures for each one stirred some latent desire. All of these were vital programs which identified you with the stage.

No, the circus hasn't come to town, and he isn't Axel, the weight lifter. He is James Melton, the tenor of stage, screen and radio fame, who presented his Toledo concert in our auditorium . . . Now we are eavesdropping at a sidewalk interview. Is it the vox populi? . . . Sitting at the desk are those two madcaps of everything but melody—our impersonators of Laurel and Hardy . . . Caesar stepped from the pages of Shakespeare when the members of The Classic Guild of New York City presented to DeVilbiss students scenes from this play . . . Try your wits on this one . . . it's liquid air in experiments that astounded a scientifically-minded audience . . . He isn't losing his false teeth—it's just his way of playing the harmonica . . . Great love scenes from "Dulcey" . . . antics of the would-be stars. Before the curtain goes up we must get into the mood and make-up for the play.

NIGHT LIFE

VOCATION

Vocation and vacation are alike to some; but no matter how you spent your time, we'll bet it was fun . . . Heavy, heavy hangs over your head or maybe he's reading the "Pit and the Pendulum." . . . This interesting slant taken by our candid camera man shows how the grinding machine works . . . You're in the way—we want to see, too. What is it? Come to the shops and we'll show you the lathe and . . . the front of the grinding machine . . . One, two, three—faster now. All right, you may rest . . . More machinery and more light upon the subject of what goes on in the shops . . . All set for the last step. Everything ready? Here, you hold my flag . . . On top of the—what are you sitting on, my fair maid? Maybe it's that poise we hear so much about . . . How many angles do you see?—or a picture study for plain geometry students . . . Comfortable? They're showing you what not to do when the chairs are all broken. The picture below it shows the correct behavior. Imagination is all you need . . . You're sure I didn't sit on a tack, or something? Oh, I thought you were laughing at me! . . . Showing the latest cover-alls (?) Note the flowery and button types of smiles—you must match your costume this season, girls . . . Is it honey or paint? One of our human faculty on a vacation . . . Come on in. The water's fine—or is this some more tooth-paste propaganda? . . . Remember when? You can't fool us with that disguise. We know you too well . . . Mother, how tall am I? . . . If looks could talk! Always help your mother with the dishes and you'll be pretty too . . . Vocation and vacation: to acquire a smooth, even tone of sun tan. Moral, save your luminous for rainy days. The stripes are merely a side line with this patriot . . . Perfect! Now two steps to the left and jump . . . Don't mind my back—'tis a beautiful view—we'll have waves too when the curlers come out . . . Who goes there, Robert Taylor — or Mickey Mouse? How long and how wide is my smile? . . . Healthy ,well, and wise are we. The good of a vacation can't be figure (d).

TIME MARCHES ON

There's a long, long trail awinding — through the myriad halls that honeycomb DeVilbiss. A lonely stranger might miss some of the most favored nooks and corners; so here are the places . . . We have no grand canyon into which visitors may stare with awe and wonder, but we do have a trophy case. Into the heart of its glass-enclosed walls visitors blink at the display of athletic awards. Battered footballs, relics of hard-won conquests, glimmering cups, numerous plaques—all are symbolic laurels to the victors. In front of the case is a bevy (three to be exact) of pulchritude. They have met here to guide us through the points of interest . . . It's a pity to be late for lunch. There doesn't seem to be much food left. Those tempting soups, crisp salads, and luscious desserts have incited so many delinquent appetites . . . Coats well buttoned, hats perched precariously atop curly locks, we rush out through the front door for a breath of fresh air . . . Back to classes and more books means coming up or going down at DeVilbiss. This is the spot for perspective—there you are at the center of the angle . . . To the library we retire for individual work. Now you may study to your heart's content or to necessity's fulfillment.

Meditation and retrospection reveal thoughts and scenes of school life to this pens.ve lady. There reflects upon the paned glass of the window the smiling countenance of this classmate and on her mind are reflected the past events of her high school career. Thoughts terrifying to the freshman she was four years ago paint a smile on her lips as she wistfully recalls a timid entrance through the DeVilbiss portals. She laughs outright when she remembers the cocksure sophomore who was so intent upon revolutionizing the whole school system. As her thoughts rove back through several years, she thinks again of the new friends and comrades she has made. Her senior year stands out as the culmination of exciting events. And yet she thinks of the future; for graduation brings to her the challenge of the rainbow—to find the pot o' gold.
